What is the DXIT In-Training Exam?

Across medical specialties, an In-Training Exam like DXIT is used to assess resident progress and provide residency programs with comparative data about how the program is meeting these educational goals.

Who should take the In-Training Exam?

The Exams are scheduled annually for first- through fourth-year diagnostic and interventional radiology residents as well as those in fellowships.

What is the topic breakdown for the In-Training Exam?

The DXIT Exam covers Domains: Breast, Cardiac, Chest, General Competency, GI, GU, IR, MSK, Neuro, Nuclear, Peds, Physics and Ultrasound. The exact specifications are posted on the website.

What testing and proctoring options will I have for the DXIT Exam?

The online DXIT Exam will be administered on the Cortex platform and proctored using the online Proctortrack software. The Exam can be taken at home or at your institution.

What is the exam window for the DXIT Exam?

The Exam is normally held in January. Refer to the website for exact dates.

Can the In-Training Exam be administered outside of the exam window?

No, the exam is available during the exam window only.

What should I do if I need technical assistance before or during the DXIT Exam window?

If experiencing technical difficulty, contact the Proctortrack 24/7 support chat, or email intrainingexam@acr.org during working hours with a screen shot and detailed explanation of the issue. Messages are answered in a queue.

How do I request Special Accommodations?

Program Administrators are to notify the ACR of the requested special accommodation via an online form. Contact your Program Administrator immediately if you require special accommodation.

Can I use a calculator?

Yes, paper/pen and calculator are allowed.

How does online proctoring work?

The onboarding process will provide all you need to know regarding the proctoring for the exam. The onboarding process must be complete 72 hours prior to your Exam and will verify your login and help verify your laptop and browser is working as expected.

What is the schedule of the Exam? What do I need to know?

Before the Exam

- Be sure to notify your Program Administrator of any special needs as soon as possible.

- Complete the onboarding process at least 72 hours before their exam can be started. The onboarding process provides all technical requirements for your laptop and provides approved browser(s).
- Check your username/password before you begin the onboarding process.

During the Exam

- The total testing time will be 2.5 hours, which includes a 10-minute break.
- The exam will consist of 130 questions.
- You must answer each exam question to complete the exam. You will then select the SUBMIT button which will complete the exam process.
- You are allowed paper/pen and a calculator for the exam.

After the Exam

- Set up or verify your Exam review schedule. There will be a limited time after the exam to review with your Program Director or Program Administrator.
- The score reports will be emailed to Program Directors within eight weeks of the exam.
- Programs will receive a report that shows the percent of questions correct for each examinee as well as each examinee's percentile rank.
- Examinees should NOT contact the ACR directly to ask for their scores.

Still have questions about the In-Training Exams?
