Standard support is an offer which includes the following specific components:

a) Information Services

Avid will provide 7 days x 24 hours access to an online Knowledge Base and product forums (available at www.avid.com/support). Secure user login may be required for access and use of forums is subject to the Avid Community Exchange Terms of Use and Conduct Guidelines (available at <http://community.avid.com/forums/terms.aspx>). Availability may be limited during hours of routine maintenance or updates to the web site.

b) Technical Support

Technical Support is available via Web case logging with 7 days x 24 hours access. Web case logging is the preferred form of contacting support for all non-critical issues. Avid will use reasonable commercial efforts to meet a 24-hour response target for all logged requests Monday through Friday and 48-hours on weekends.

"Response" shall mean the initiation of an action by Avid to the support request. The service provided by Avid is limited to Avid qualified hardware and software.

"Critical Issues" shall mean the customer is experiencing an issue for which there is no acceptable work alternative and that is seriously impacting the customer's ability to conduct business.

Avid reserves the right to modify the hours of availability, if the customer does not appropriately comply with the above defined usage criteria.

Technical Support provided outside normal business hours (9:00 am to 5:00 pm, local to the Avid contact center) will be delivered in English.

c) Order Support

Order Support is available via Web case logging within normal business hours. Avid will use reasonable commercial efforts to meet a 24-hour response target for all logged requests.

"Response" shall mean the initiation of an action by Avid to the support request. The service provided by Avid is limited to Avid qualified hardware and software.

d) Software Patches and Updates

From time to time Avid will make available to the customer software patches and Updates. "Updates" are any of the following: maintenance releases and software feature releases (also called software upgrades). When applicable, Avid may also distribute customer specific bug fixes ("Bug Fixes"). Bug Fixes have limited testing and are distributed only to those customers exhibiting the particular issues that are addressed by the Bug Fixes. Avid may, at its discretion, post freely downloadable software patches, Bug Fixes or Updates on www.avid.com.

This plan only covers software patches and Updates for current shipping software releases. No back releases will be provided. Customers are not entitled to any refunds or credits for past purchases of software Updates. Rights to software Updates cease with support plan termination or expiration.

- e) Professional services, training services, additional required upgrades of hardware, software or third party products; and the installation of patches or Updates are not included with the software patches or Updates. All such additional upgrades and services must be purchased separately.
- f) Hardware Coverage (Optional for an additional fee)
Customers may choose to add Advance Hardware replacement to their Standard Support coverage for an additional fee that varies by product.

Customers with such Hardware Coverage will be entitled to have a replacement part shipped in advance of Avid receiving back the faulty part. Avid will use reasonable commercial efforts to ensure Two Business Day dispatch from depot for Standard support plans (excludes weekends and public holidays local to the Avid depot).

A request for a replacement part must be accepted by Avid by 3:00 pm local time (for the Avid Depot location) for the request to be considered "received" during that working day. Certain geographical locations and/or customs restrictions may delay delivery and these will be notified as soon as Avid becomes aware that there is an issue. Failure to return the faulty part within 14 days of shipment of the replacement part to the customer ("the Return Period") will result in Avid invoicing customer for the full retail price of the replacement part.

Parts returned to Avid outside the Return Period, will be credited at Avid's sole discretion and, if a credit is agreed by Avid, this credit may not be at the full invoiced price. Avid reserves the right to suspend advance parts shipment where there are outstanding invoices relating to replacement parts.

Customers should not return parts to Avid without first confirming a failure with Avid customer support. If a customer chooses to return a part without this confirmation and no fault is found, Avid reserves the right to charge the customer a freight, handling and diagnosis charge; at Avid's then-current rates (available upon request).

Avid reserves the right to remove hardware coverage from this plan for products that have been in use for more than five years. Per-event repair or replacement purchase options may be available for an additional fee.

- g) Remote Connectivity
For products with remote connectivity, Avid provides remote support to customers from our global support centers using remote console access and diagnostic tools. Customers are expected to provide remote access to Avid equipment to aid in the diagnosis and troubleshooting process. For products with remote connectivity, Avid Technical Support personnel will use secure tools to directly access the user interface in order to test and/or resolve technical issues. Avid reserves the right to charge an additional support difficulty surcharge; at Avid's then-current rates (available upon request); on all support contracts when the customer is unable, or unwilling, to provide remote access to the supported equipment. This surcharge does not entitle the customer to onsite support.

h) Onsite Support not included

Onsite assistance is optional and chargeable at Avid's then-current rates (available upon request), together with travel time and expenses, at the time of provision of the service. It is charged on a daily rate that cannot be pro-rated for parts of a day (unless contractually agreed to in advance of a request). A "day" is defined as not more than nine hours of onsite presence; to include appropriate breaks for meals, etc. (local labor laws apply).

Avid will use reasonable efforts to respond to requests for onsite support by providing resources within seven business days for customers with all of their Avid products covered under an Standard Support contract. Onsite assistance is not available in all locations and is provided at Avid's sole discretion.

Onsite support service charges are non-refundable. Avid reserves the right to make changes to our onsite support policies and procedures without prior notice.

i) Exclusions from Coverage

This Support Plan does not apply to third party products, except when explicitly stated in Avid documentation. Please contact the original manufacturer of the third party product for information about support services, if any, offered for such third party product.
