

WELL-VISITS

A Road Map to Your Child's Health

Well-visits are crucial to track your baby's growth, nutrition, behavior, and development. Pediatricians administer recommended vaccinations and complete additional routine preventive healthcare screenings, including a physical exam, to ensure your child has the best start in life.

You may be thinking, "Is it really safe to give my baby that many shots at once?" The answer is YES! And luckily, your pediatrician can combine some shots so there's less pricking and hopefully less crying.
