

Onboard, Engage and Retain your Warehouse Labor Force

Are you struggling to find and keep warehouse staff?

Additional warehouse employees that will be needed by 2024¹

Estimated employer cost to replace employees who leave²

Employees who would stay at a company longer if it invested in learning & development³

Real Results with Blue Yonder Labor Management

Increase employee engagement by 35%

Reduce turnover by

50%

Increase productivity by

20%

Bring new staff on quickly and create an environment that encourages retention

Standard processes

Clear, measurable performance expectation

Report cards

Observation

Coaching and Process Improvement

Create a Culture of Employee Engagement with Labor Management

With Blue Yonder Warehouse Labor Management, you can move from simple units per hour to granular activity tracking.

Labor Management allows you to:

Manage performance & ensure compliance

Plan resources

Optimize the labor force

Incent & reward

Drive continuous improvement

Sources:

¹ "Automation Will Drive Need for 1 Million Additional Warehouse Workers Through 2024", Material Handling and Logistics, December 2021.

² "There Are Significant Business Costs to Replacing Employees", Center for American Progress, November 2012.

³ LinkedIn Learning 2018 Workplace Learning Report

