2. ABOUT EQUITY TRUSTEES AND ORBIS

Equity Trustees is the Fund’s responsible entity and issuer of this PDS

Equity Trustees, based in Australia, was established in 1888 by an Act of Victorian Parliament to provide trustee and executor services. It has evolved into a diversified financial services provider offering a broad range of products and services to a large client base. Equity Trustees’ responsibilities and obligations as the Fund’s responsible entity are governed by the Fund’s Constitution, the Corporations Act and general trust law.

Equity Trustees has also appointed Citi, as independent custodian and administrator, to hold the Fund’s assets and value them in accordance with Equity Trustees’ valuation policy. SS&C, based in Australia, has been appointed by Equity Trustees to maintain the Fund’s unit (member) register and is responsible for processing all applications into, and redemptions from, the Fund.

Orbis has been appointed by Equity Trustees to invest and manage the Fund’s assets

Orbis is part of the Orbis Group and headquartered in Bermuda.

The Orbis Group is a global fund manager established in 1989 and founded by Dr Allan WB Gray, who also founded Allan Gray Proprietary Limited in South Africa (AGL). The Orbis Group and AGL share the same investment approach and philosophy, culture and commitment to clients. The Orbis Group has offices in Bermuda, Hong Kong, Tokyo, London, Luxembourg, San Francisco, Sydney and Vancouver.

More information about the Orbis Group is available at www.orbis.com

3. GENERAL INFORMATION ABOUT THE ORBIS GLOBAL REAL RETURN FUND

The Fund is a managed investment scheme structured as a unit trust

The Fund is registered under the Corporations Act and is not a fund of hedge funds (i.e. its primary objective is not to invest in other funds or vehicles to gain exposure to a range of investments).

When you invest, you buy units in the Fund and become a member or unit holder

These units give you a beneficial interest in the Fund. You do not have any entitlement to any particular part of the Fund or its assets and you are not entitled to participate in the management or operation of the Fund (except through investor meetings).

Units are priced daily based on the Fund’s NAV. The price of the units will vary as the market value of the Fund’s assets rise or fall. Your return will mirror the return of the Fund’s underlying investments, after expenses.

When you invest in the Fund, you will be allocated units at the application (entry) price for the Business day on which we process your application. When you redeem (withdraw), we will redeem your units at the redemption (exit) price for the Business day on which we process your redemption request. The application and redemption price has a buy/sell spread of 0.25% of the cost of a unit built in. The buy/sell spread is designed to protect existing investors by ensuring that those who invest in, or redeem from, the Fund cover the cost of buying or selling the Fund’s underlying securities.

The Fund intends to distribute its distributable income (if any) on 30 June each year

The Fund’s Constitution allows the Fund to make additional distributions.

An income distribution is the payment of the Fund’s distributable income to investors. It may include interest, dividends and realised capital gains. How much income the Fund distributes will be different from year to year.

You can choose to have your distributions reinvested in the Fund or credited directly to your nominated Australian bank account. If you do not have an Australian bank account, your distributions will be automatically reinvested. Distribution payments to the nominated bank account are generally made within 10 Business days after the end of the distribution period. No buy/sell spread applies on distributions that are reinvested.

Fund structure

Significant features and benefits of the Fund

Please consider whether the expected Fund characteristics below suit your investment needs and if you are comfortable with the risks of investing in the Fund. If you are in any doubt, please seek professional advice before investing.

Invest differently – Orbis' contrarian investment approach

The Orbis investment approach covers three main principles – Fundamental, Long-term and Contrarian:

- Fundamental – To determine a company's true value, Orbis analyses its entire history and scrutinise its business fundamentals.
- Long-term – Orbis' research does not focus on trying to forecast the next share price. Rather Orbis adopts a long-term horizon when buying and holding shares for the Fund. This may see some fluctuations or volatility and it may be some years before a share's fundamental or intrinsic value is realised, but Orbis considers it pays to be patient.
- Contrarian – Orbis' goal is to find value others miss, often in unpopular or overlooked businesses ignored by the market. Orbis is not contrarian for the sake of it but rather concentrates its research on companies whose prospect appear to be most underestimated by the investment community.

Refundable performance fees and capped payments to Orbis

Orbis receives a fixed (base) investment management fee and performance fees.

When the Fund beats the Benchmark, 25% of the outperformance is paid into a reserve. When the Benchmark beats the Fund (i.e. the Fund underperforms), refunds are issued at the same 25% rate from the reserve. If the reserve is nil, no refund is available but Orbis will notionally track the underperformance and such losses will need to be recovered by the Fund's outperformance before any performance fee can be paid to Orbis.

In this way, Orbis does not immediately collect performance fees when the Fund performs well. Instead, Orbis receives payment from the reserve only where the reserve has positive value, and this amount is capped at 2.5% (per year) of the Class' net asset value. Once paid to Orbis, these amounts are no longer refundable.

Citi values the Fund's asset independently from Orbis and Equity Trustees

For listed assets, Citi uses the official closing prices on the primary exchange. For unlisted assets, Citi determines their value using its own data sources (e.g. Reuters, Bloomberg, market data vendors and industry standard pricing models). Forward foreign currency contracts are marked to market using appropriate forward foreign currency exchange rates prevailing at the valuation time on each Business day. All such prices are reviewed and verified by Orbis as part of its internal control procedures. Any discrepancies above a tolerance threshold are investigated by Orbis and if required, reported to Equity Trustees for resolution.

From time to time, Equity Trustees may need to make a determination on the value of a particular asset, such as when a listed stock is suspended, stock markets are closed due to unforeseen circumstances or there is no readily available price for the asset. In these circumstances, Equity Trustees will seek input from Citi, Orbis and other independent sources prior to making a determination.

The Fund's NAV is determined at 5:30pm Bermuda time (valuation time) each Business day and such other days and/or time as determined by Orbis and Equity Trustees. To determine the number of units on issue or deemed to be on issue on a Business day, the number of units on issue excludes those units to be issued and/or cancelled as a result of transactions accepted for that Business day.

Equity Trustees has a formal written policy regarding the guidelines and relevant factors to be taken into account when exercising discretion in calculating the Fund's unit prices (including determining the value of assets and liabilities). This policy sets out when Equity Trustees will engage independent third parties to assist in the valuation of the Fund's assets which are not exchange traded or do not have a market price. A copy of the policy and other relevant documents are available upon request.

4. THE FUND'S INVESTMENT PROFILE

Fund inception date

1 February 2017

Investment objective

To balance the generation of investment returns and risk of loss using a diversified global portfolio. In doing so, the aim is to seek higher returns than CPI+4% per annum over the long-term.

Investment approach

Orbis aims to contain the risk of monetary loss to a level that is below the risk of loss experienced by global equity funds but higher than that experienced by government bond funds and cash deposits over the long term.

This is accomplished by combining global equities with stock market hedging, fixed income securities and bond market hedging, and commodities in a single Fund. Generally, this combination is expected to lower the risk of monetary loss as compared to global equities by adding uncorrelated asset classes and increasing the income of the Fund. This expected reduction in risk of loss comes at the expense of long-term expected return.

Benchmark

CPI+4% per annum.

Key Orbis Individuals managing the Fund

The following individuals play a key role and will devote the majority of their time to managing the Fund.

Name	Qualifications	Years with Orbis*	Investment experience
Alexander Cutler	<ul style="list-style-type: none">Bachelor of Science (Honours) in Naval Architecture (U.S. Naval Academy)Master of Business Administration (Wharton - University of Pennsylvania)Chartered Financial Analyst	Since 2004	31 years

Note: Years with Orbis includes time spent as an investment professional at Orbis and Allan Gray Limited (and its related bodies corporate). Orbis, Mr Cutler has not been subject to any significant adverse regulatory findings.*

Investment strategy and asset diversification targets

Asset targets	Asset class
0-90%	Equities.
0-70%	Fixed income (e.g. bonds, money market instruments, cash and cash equivalents issued by corporate bodies, governments and other entities).
0-15%	Commodity-linked instruments.
0-5%	Other types of securities and financial instruments/assets

Orbis may limit aggregate hedging of the Fund's equity and fixed income exposure to no more than 30% of the Fund's NAV. Orbis may cause the Fund to be under or over these targets and limits where it considers this to be in the Fund's interest.

Liquidity profile

The Fund reasonably expects to realise at least 80% of its assets at prices set out, or close to, its NAV within 10 days under normal market conditions and assuming consistent or better than average trading volumes.

The Fund looks to maintain adequate cash levels for the settlement of trades and to meet redemptions during the normal course of business.

Leverage

The Fund does not borrow money to invest. It can borrow to meet redemptions or to settle transactions on a short term basis (see the investment restrictions). The Fund does not use leverage to increase or amplify its exposure to an investment.

The Fund can be considered as indirectly leveraged when it uses derivatives such as exchange traded futures and options and OTC instruments such as options, forwards and swaps for hedging purposes. As these derivatives are used for hedging purposes and not to amplify the exposure to an investment, Orbis does not typically focus or limit the maximum anticipated level of leverage embedded in these derivatives.

The table below sets out the Fund's maximum indirect leverage limits based on the most commonly used derivatives and how they impact the Fund when used for hedging purposes.

Derivatives	Maximum leverage	Impact due to hedging
Short futures	100% of NAV	0%
Forward currency contracts	100% of NAV	0%
Total	200% of NAV	0%

We have not disclosed the impact of leverage on the Fund's investment returns and losses, (assuming the maximum level of leverage) because the Fund does not borrow to amplify its exposure to investments.

Labour standards, environmental, social or ethical considerations (ESG)

Equity Trustees has delegated the investment function to Orbis as investment manager, including any ESG considerations that may be taken into account in Orbis' investment process.

Orbis is a signatory to the United Nations - supported Principles for Responsible Investment (UNPRI).

ESG considerations are only taken into account to the extent that they may have a material impact on Orbis' independent assessment of a security's long-term intrinsic value. Analysts apply Orbis' proprietary investment research process to evaluate ESG considerations prior to Orbis making investment decisions. To make the integration of ESG considerations systematic, all late-stage fundamental research that are submitted for consideration as part of the investment decision process will include a section on relevant ESG considerations. While Orbis may reject investment ideas due to ESG considerations, there may also be attractive long-term investment opportunities when Orbis believes prices are overly discounted as a result of such ESG considerations.

Orbis may engage with investee companies on matters that it believes may impact the long-term intrinsic value of the company, which includes the company's management of ESG considerations. Nevertheless, engagement has its limitations and this means Orbis may consequently reject investments judiciously at any price.

Orbis does not apply predetermined ESG standards or policies in selecting, retaining or realising investments for the Fund. Orbis has not developed a methodology (for example negative or positive screening or weighting system for evaluating ESG considerations relating to an investment decision for the Fund.

Investment restrictions

1	Issuers	Excluding any Short-term cash, no more than 20% of the Fund's NAV may be invested in securities, money market instruments, deposits or OTC derivatives issued by, or made with, the same body.
2	Holdings	The Fund will not hold more than 10% of a company's issued voting shares.
3	Unlisted	No more than 10% of the Fund's NAV will be in unlisted shares.
4	Derivatives	Derivatives are permitted, subject to the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • exposure to derivatives must not exceed 100% of assets, ignoring those used for hedging purposes • no uncovered equity derivatives • no uncovered short put equity options, and • not enter into derivative transactions for the purpose of causing net negative currency exposures. The Fund uses the following types of derivatives. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Exchange traded derivatives, for example futures and options. These are used for cash management or investment efficiency purposes and may be used to help the Fund be exposed to equities or reduce its exposure to equities (i.e. hedging). The Fund may take long (on rare occasions) and short positions in futures and options. The Fund aims to hold enough liquid assets (for example, cash or securities) to cover the exposure or hold an offsetting position equivalent to the exposure, or a combination of the two. For the Fund to trade in short put equity options, it must have set aside cash (or available liquid assets) to offset such exposure. • Forward currency contracts, options, and swaps to assist in currency management and limit exposure to exchange rate risks. While the Fund does not actively target net negative currency exposures, regular trading and/or market movements will occasionally give rise to a small net negative currency exposure that may remain unhedged until such time such negative exposure is removed. • Other OTC derivatives, including puts and swaps for portfolio management purposes. Exchange traded and OTC derivatives are entered into with approved and reputable counterparties. Orbis monitors, for example, the credit profile, margin exposure and stock price, of such counterparties on a weekly basis. Orbis will take action to reduce or eliminate such counterparty exposure if needed.

5	Short selling	No short selling of equities. The Fund short sells index and bond futures for hedging purposes and may short other instruments from time to time.
6	Borrowings	The Fund has never borrowed since its inception but can borrow up to 10% of its NAV provided it is on a temporary basis. The Fund intends to only exercise its borrowing powers to either meet redemptions or to purchase investments where the proceeds from the sale of other investments have been delayed due to settlement issues. If the Fund does borrow, it aims to fully repay such borrowing within 90 days. The Fund will obtain a credit facility if it needs to borrow funds for this purpose.

Monitoring of restrictions

Orbis is allowed to purchase/sell an investment or alternatively continue to hold an investment that is not consistent with the above restrictions if Equity Trustees and Orbis agree that the investment is not a material departure from these restrictions.

The restrictions are measured at the time of investment. It is not necessary for Orbis to make changes to the Fund's investments to adjust for subsequent market fluctuations or other subsequent events in order to remain within these restrictions.

Where any transaction is part of a series of transactions to be completed by the Fund within a 24 hour business period (for example, the purchase of a security in one time zone and the subsequent sale of another security in a different time zone) the series of transactions will be taken to have occurred at the same time for the purposes of determining whether the restrictions have been complied with.

5. HOW ORBIS MAKES INVESTMENT DECISIONS FOR THE FUND

Equities	Orbis' equities research is based on three principles – fundamental, long term, and contrarian. Orbis aims to focus its research efforts on the most promising investment opportunities. This is facilitated, amongst other means, by using a proprietary equities screening tool based on quantitative considerations. Using this tool, equities that are considered promising are subjected to “bottom up” investment analysis. The starting point is to eliminate those equities that have fallen out of favour for sound and enduring reasons (for example, the shares of companies which Orbis believes are poorly managed or vulnerable). Those equities that are not eliminated by this pre-screening are subjected to intensive qualitative investment research. This entails evaluation of factors such as the company's perceived ability to generate superior growth in cash flow, earnings and dividends in the projected economic environment, the quality of management, the competitive environment, the strength of its balance sheet, and the extent to which the share price already reflects these factors. The result of this research process is a continuously monitored group of equities whose share prices Orbis considers most fundamentally attractive. In constructing the Fund's equity portion, Orbis emphasises each equity's perceived risk and reward, but also monitors the correlation between the selected equities to control diversification. Orbis believes the main risk of investing in equities is that their prices will decline if relevant stockmarkets fall significantly. To reduce this risk, when Orbis' research suggests that stockmarkets are overvalued and vulnerable, Orbis will reduce exposure to, or hedge, stockmarket risk. Similarly, when Orbis' research suggests that stockmarkets represent good value, Orbis will increase exposure to stockmarket risk by decreasing the amount of that hedging. The Fund reduces its exposure to stockmarket risk in the pool of equities typically by holding a basket of stockmarket index futures sold and stockmarket index put options. Orbis uses these hedging instruments with an aim to decrease the dependence of the returns of the equities in the portfolio on the direction of global stockmarkets.
Fixed income	Fixed income securities – like equities – are selected with the aim of increasing the Fund's overall risk adjusted total return. To this end, characteristics such as yield, liquidity, and potential diversification benefits are viewed in the context of the risk and reward of the Fund as a whole. Government fixed income securities are selected based on, in part, the global economic views expressed by Orbis' fundamental company and currency research process. Similarly, corporate fixed income securities are selected largely based on the fundamental research done on the issuing company. The Fund may from time to time include high yield bonds and securities of issuers that have filed for bankruptcy protection or equivalent reorganization, notably distressed debt. The Fund's fixed income selections in aggregate may differ significantly from the Benchmark in duration and credit quality. When Orbis' research suggests that bond markets are overvalued and vulnerable, Orbis will reduce exposure to, or hedge, bond market risk. Similarly, when Orbis' research suggests that bond markets represent good value, Orbis will increase exposure to bond market risk by decreasing the amount of that hedging. The Fund reduces its exposure to bondmarket risk in the pool of fixed income instruments typically by holding a basket of bond market index futures sold and bond market index put options. Orbis uses these hedging instruments with an aim to decrease the dependence of the returns of the fixed income instruments in the portfolio on the direction of global bond markets.
Commodity – linked instruments	The Fund may gain indirect exposure to commodities through commodity-linked instruments. This occurs if Orbis identifies a commodity or class of commodities as being more attractive than overall equity and fixed income opportunities, taking into account any risk reduction benefits of diversification. An investment that provides commodity exposure would have to be more attractive than an investment in an equity or fixed income instrument that provides exposure to the same underlying commodity (e.g securities of a gold producer). Under no circumstances can an investment in an instrument that provides commodity exposure result in the physical delivery of the underlying commodity to the Fund.
Currency management	Exchange rate fluctuations significantly influence global investment returns. For this reason, part of Orbis' research effort is devoted to forecasting currency trends. Taking into account these expected trends, Orbis actively reviews the Fund's currency exposure. Those currencies held but considered vulnerable may be sold in favour of those considered more attractive, generally using forward currency contracts.

If you are seeking to redeem units to the value of at least 10% of the Fund's NAV, we must receive your redemption form at least 10 Business days prior to the day you want your redemption to be processed.

Redemption Terms

Once we receive your redemption form, we may act on your instruction without further enquiry if the instruction bears your account number or investor details and your (apparent) signature(s), or your authorised signatory's (apparent) signature(s). When you are redeeming, you should take note of the following:

- We reserve the right to fully redeem your investment or amend the fee terms applicable to your class upon 30 days' notice if your investment balance in the Fund falls below the minimum investment balance as a result of processing your redemption request.
- If we cannot satisfactorily identify you as the redeeming investor, we may refuse or reject your redemption form or payment of your redemption proceeds will be delayed. We are not responsible for any loss you consequently suffer.
- As an investor who is redeeming, you agree that any payment made according to instructions received by post or courier, email or fax, will be in complete satisfaction of our obligations, despite any fact or circumstances such as the payment being made without your knowledge or authority.
- You agree that if the payment is made according to these terms, you and any person claiming through or under you, shall have no claim against us about the payment.

Restrictions on redemptions

Under the Corporations Act you do not have a right to redeem from the Fund if the Fund is illiquid. When this applies, you can only redeem where Equity Trustees makes a redemption offer in accordance with the Corporations Act. Equity Trustees is not obliged to make such offers. The Fund will be liquid if at least 80% of its assets are Liquid Assets. In addition, if Equity Trustees is unable to repatriate funds to meet redemption payments, it may suspend the calculation of the NAV and withhold redemption proceeds.

Redemption discretion

We reserve the right to refuse redemption requests without giving a reason. The Constitution also gives Equity Trustees the right to fully redeem your investment in the Fund if it has reasonable grounds to suspect that your continued holding of units would otherwise expose the Fund to consequences which are detrimental to unit holders as a whole. Equity Trustees also has the right to redeem units in satisfaction of amounts owed by an investor to the Fund, including in respect of tax.

Conditions relating to regular redemption plans

To establish a regular redemption plan, you must have a minimum balance of AUD 25,000 and maintain a balance of AUD 10,000 after each redemption is paid into your Australian bank account. If you wish to change details regarding your regular redemption plan (such as bank account details), you must provide us with written instructions at least five Business days before the 22nd day of each month. Otherwise, your instructions will only take effect in the next month.

We reserve the right to fully redeem your investment (after giving you 30 days' notice) or to automatically cancel or suspend your regular redemption plan if your investment balance in the Fund falls below AUD 10, 000.

We will also cancel your regular redemption plan if you fully redeem from the Fund.

You will be responsible for all bank charges associated with your regular redemption plan. We will automatically deduct from your investment by way of redemption of notional units or as a deduction from your redemption all banking charges incurred by the Fund as a result of incorrect or incomplete banking details you have provided. We can also terminate, suspend or impose additional conditions on the operation of the regular redemption plan at any time with notice to you.

Payment of redemption proceeds

Depending on the size of the redemption, we generally aim to pay cash redemption proceeds within seven Business days after processing the valid redemption request. Cash redemption proceeds are paid to the most recent bank account (bearing in the investor's name) we have on record. We will not make payments to third parties. If you are not resident in Australia and want your cash redemption proceeds to be paid to a foreign bank account, please provide the following details in writing (in addition to completing the redemption form):

- account name
- account number
- foreign bank name
- bank SWIFT (BIC) code
- foreign bank clearing code, and
- details (bank name and SWIFT code) of the foreign banks' intermediary or correspondent bank in Australia.

In-specie redemptions are only permitted after agreement with Orbis and are generally limited to larger redemption requests. The securities that a client receives from in-specie redemption will be determined by Orbis and may not be a proportionate part of the Fund's assets.

Transfer of units

If the transfer is to a new investor to the Fund, the new investor must still meet the minimum transaction amount, complete the initial application form and provide all relevant customer identification documents.

Equity Trustees may in its sole discretion refuse to register or process a transfer.

The Fund's NAV may be temporarily suspended

Under the Constitution, Equity Trustees may suspend the issue of units and the calculation of prices in specific circumstances, such as:

- when trading is restricted, closed or suspended on any stock market on which any of the Fund's assets are listed, quoted or traded
- if it is not reasonably practical to dispose of the Fund's underlying investments
- if there are circumstances that exist which would mean that the value of the Fund's asset or liabilities cannot reasonably or fairly be ascertained, or
- if Equity Trustees is unable to repatriate funds to meet redemption payments.

7. FEES AND COSTS

Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance, and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your investment balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example, reduce it from AUD 100,000 to AUD 80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs. You may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees where applicable. Ask the Fund or your financial adviser.

To Find out more

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) Moneysmart website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a managed funds fee calculator to help you check out different fee options.

Fees and cost summary

The table below shows fees and other costs that you may be charged. These fees and costs may be deducted from your money, from the returns of your investment or from the Fund’s assets as a whole. See section 9 on Taxation. You should read all the information about fees and costs because it is important to understand their impact on your investment.

Orbis receives payment from the reserve only where the reserve has positive value, and this amount is capped at 2.5% (per year) of the Class’ NAV (Cap).	Performance fees or refunds are calculated and paid into or out of the reserve daily. Orbis’ performance fee from the reserve is accrued daily and paid from the Fund monthly in arrears, subject to the yearly Cap.

7.1 Additional Explanation of Fees and Costs

Management fees and costs

The management fees and costs are estimated to be 1.20% p.a. and is composed of a fixed management fee component and a management cost component. Management fees and costs do not include performance fees or transaction costs, which are disclosed separately.

Management fees

The fixed management fee component (being 1.00% p.a.) is payable to Orbis for managing the Fund's assets.

Management costs

The Class also pays its share of the Fund's usual management costs (expenses), which are estimated to be 0.20% per annum and are capped at 0.20% per annum. Orbis will meet usual operating expenses in excess of this cap.

Investors may also bear certain extraordinary or unusual expenses incurred on behalf of the Fund from time to time, such as the cost of litigation or significant regulatory change.

Differential fees

Orbis offers two types of base fee rebates to recognise significant investments.

AUD50 million direct investments

Orbis will rebate 0.35% p.a. of its base fee each quarter to direct investors who maintain a net asset value (NAV) of at least AUD 50 million in the Fund across one or more connected accounts, provided that Orbis determines that a single decision-maker is responsible for these accounts. This rebate will only be available to direct investors who reach AUD 50 million in the period 1 April 2025 to 31 March 2026 (Period) and remain effective thereafter as long as the investment continues to be above AUD 50 million. The rebate will not apply to additional investments made after the Period (ignoring re-investments of distributions or the rebate itself, see below). The rebate will also not apply to any direct investor who reaches AUD 50 million on or after 1 April 2026.

The rebate will be issued as additional units in the Fund on a quarterly basis, as soon as reasonably practicable after the quarter-end. This rebate does not apply to investments made via a platform or similar structure, nor to investors acting as nominees or intermediaries without a single decision-maker directing the investment.

Wholesale Managed Account

Orbis will rebate 0.20% p.a. of its base fee each quarter to each Wholesale Managed Account that fulfils the following criteria, as determined by Orbis. Eligible accounts will need to execute a letter that, amongst other things, confirms and/or acknowledges all of the following:

- The decision to invest into, or redeem from, the Fund for and on behalf of financial advisers and their underlying clients is solely made by a centralised decision-making body/ committee consisting of investment professionals. Each underlying client does not have a separate account in the Fund and they and their advisers have no investment management discretion in relation to their investment in the Fund.
- Account(s) must have at least AUD 10 million. The AUD 10 million is based on the net asset value referable to units held by the account(s) during the relevant quarter. Orbis will determine which accounts can and are to be aggregated for the purposes of meeting the AUD 10 million.
- Orbis can terminate the rebate by giving at least 30 days' notice and no interest or compensation is payable for any error or delay in calculating and/or paying such rebate or for any under or overpayment.

Performance fees

Actual performance fees for current and future years may differ and may not be payable at all or may instead be refunded if the Fund underperforms in relation to the Benchmark for a relevant period. We cannot forecast the performance of the Fund so it is not possible to estimate the performance fee incurred in any given year.

On 1 August 2024, the Fund's benchmark changed from the 60/40 Index to CPI+4% per annum (Benchmark).

The performance fee disclosed in the Fees and Costs Summary is illustrative and is a reasonable estimate based on the average of the Fund's performance fees over the Last 5 Years, had the Benchmark been applicable for the Last 5 Years.

Please see sections 7.2 – 7.4 for further information about how the refundable performance fee works.

Transactional costs

Transaction costs such as brokerage, settlement costs, clearing costs, stamp duty, implicit trading costs and costs associated with using over the counter derivatives to manage risks, are generally incurred in connection with day-to-day trading for the Fund or when there are applications into or redemptions from the Fund. These transaction costs are variable and are deducted from the Fund as they are incurred and are reflected in the Fund's unit price. Transaction costs are an additional cost to the investor where they are not recovered by the buy/ sell spread. The transaction costs figure in the Fees and Costs Summary is shown net of any amount recovered by the buy/ sell spread charged by Equity Trustees.

During the financial year ending 30 June 2024, the total transaction costs for the Fund were 0.07% per annum, of which 0.05% was recovered via the buy/sell spread charged on applications and redemptions. This resulted in net transaction costs to the Fund of 0.02% per annum, being AUD 10 on an annual account balance of AUD 50,000. However, these costs may differ in future years.

Buy/sell spread

The Fund's buy/sell spread of 0.25% of the cost of a unit is designed to cover some of the estimated transaction costs incurred by the Fund in buying or selling assets when you invest or redeem. The dollar value of these costs, based on an application or redemption of AUD 50,000, is AUD 125 for each individual transaction.

The buy/sell spread can be altered by Equity Trustees at any time and orbis.com.au will be updated as soon as practicable to reflect any change. Equity Trustees may also waive the buy/sell spread in part or in full at its discretion.

Change to fees

We will give you at least 30 days' prior notice of any proposal to increase the fixed management fees. Equity Trustees will need approval from the Fund's investors if it wishes to raise fees above the amounts allowed in the Constitution.

Additional fees

Any financial adviser you consult may charge you additional fees. Please refer to the adviser's statement of advice.

Example of annual fees and costs

The table below gives an example of how the ongoing annual fees and costs in the Fund can affect your investment over a one-year period. You should use this table to compare this product with other products offered by managed investment schemes.

Example - Orbis Global Real Return Fund		Balance of AUD 50,000 with a contribution of AUD 5,000 during the year
Contribution fee	Nil	For every additional AUD 5,000 you put in you will be charged AUD 0.
PLUS Management fee and costs	1.20%	And for every AUD 50,000 you have in the Fund you will be charged or have deducted from your investment AUD 600 each year
PLUS Performance fees	0.20%	And, you will be charged or have deducted from your investment AUD 100 in performance fees each year
PLUS Transaction costs	0.02%	And, you will be charged or have deducted from your investment AUD 10 in transaction costs
EQUALS cost of Orbis Global Real Return Fund		If you had an investment of AUD 50,000 at the beginning of the year and you put in an additional AUD 5,000 during that year, you would be charged fees and costs of AUD 710. [†] What it costs you will depend on the investment option you choose and the fees you negotiate
[†] Additional fees may apply. Please note that this example does not capture all the fees and costs that may apply to you such as the buy/sell spread. Example assumes the AUD 5,000 additional contribution occurs at the end of the first year, therefore fees and costs are calculated on the AUD 50,000 investment only.

7.2 Performance is measured each Business day

At the end of each Business day, the Fund's performance is compared to the previous Business day's performance. If Orbis beats the Benchmark, 25% of the outperformance is paid into a reserve. This has the effect of:

- reducing the Class' NAV, which means your unit price decreases, and
- increasing the assets in the reserve (described below).

When the Benchmark beats Orbis, refunds are issued at the same 25% rate from the reserve. When this happens:

- the Class' NAV increases, which means your unit price increases, and
- the assets in the reserve are reduced.

What is the reserve?

The reserve is an innovative structure that 'stores' the performance fees that accumulate during periods of outperformance (i.e. when Orbis beats the Benchmark), rather than immediately paying these to Orbis. The 'storage' of these performance fees enables Orbis to offer a refund in periods of underperformance (i.e. when the Benchmark beats Orbis) – see the diagram below.

How does the reserve work?

The assets in the reserve, held by Orbis, are invested in the Fund alongside your investment. As such, its value will increase or decrease depending on how well Orbis performs relative to the Benchmark as well as market movements.

Although Orbis refunds performance fees at the same rate at which it takes them, actual performance fees you pay will vary depending on a variety of factors such as when you and other investors decide to invest in or redeem from the Fund. This is because amounts in the reserve apply to the Class as a whole and are not linked to any one particular investor.

What happens if the reserve is emptied and has nil value?

If the reserve is nil (for example, where there has been an extended period of underperformance), no refund is available to you but Orbis will notionally track the underperformance. This ensures you will not be charged a performance fee (i.e. no further amount will be transferred into the reserve) until all underperformance is fully recovered.

7.3 Payment of performance fees to Orbis

Orbis is only entitled to receive payment from the reserve where the reserve has positive value. This payment accrues daily, normally paid monthly and is subject to a yearly cap. Once paid to Orbis, these amounts are no longer refundable. The amount Orbis receives from the reserve is the lesser of:

- one-third (per year) of the value of the reserve, and
- 2.5% (per year) of the Class' NAV.

7.4 What performance fee do you pay in different scenarios?

Example	Scenario 1 The Fund goes up more than the Benchmark (Orbis receives a fee)	Scenario 2 The Fund does not do as well as the Benchmark (Orbis receives no fee)	Scenario 3 The Fund does not do as well as the Benchmark (Orbis may still receive a fee)
Fund performance (net of fixed management fee and management costs)	6%	3%	3%
Benchmark performance	5%	4%	4%
Did the Fund outperform the Benchmark?	Yes. By 1% and a performance fee is charged.	No. It underperformed by 1% and no performance fee is charged.	No. It underperformed by 1% and no performance fee is charged.
Is a refund available?	No, as there is outperformance.	Yes, if there is money in the reserve it can be used to refund the underperformance.	Yes, if there is money in the reserve it can be used to refund the underperformance.
What happens to the reserve?	Assume there is AUD 0 in the reserve, the Fund's net asset value is AUD 100,000 and the 1% outperformance equals AUD 1,000. The 1% outperformance sees AUD 250 moved from the Fund's assets and placed into the reserve (25% x AUD 1,000). So, the reserve now increases in value by AUD 250.	Assume there is AUD 250 in the reserve, the Fund's net asset value is AUD 100,000 and the 1% underperformance equals AUD 1,000. The 1% underperformance sees Orbis refund AUD 250 from the reserve into the Fund's assets (25% x AUD 1,000). So, the reserve now decreases in value by AUD 250 to AUD 0.	Assume there is AUD 450 in the Fund's reserve, the Fund's net asset value is AUD 100,000 and the 1% underperformance equals AUD 1,000. The 1% underperformance sees Orbis refund AUD 250 from the reserve into the Fund's assets (25% x AUD 1,000). So, the reserve now decreases in value by AUD 250 to AUD 200.
What performance fees does Orbis receive? Orbis can only draw a performance fee from the reserve and not from your investment.	As there is AUD 250 in the reserve, Orbis is paid AUD 0.23 in performance fees for that day ($(\frac{1}{3} \times \text{AUD } 250) \div 365$). The balance of the reserve is available for future refunds or payments to Orbis.	As there is AUD 0 in the reserve, Orbis is not paid a performance fee for that day. If there is a loss the next day, it will be tallied and tracked in the reserve. No performance fee is charged until the losses have been made up by future outperformance.	As there is AUD 200 in the reserve, Orbis is paid AUD 0.18 in performance fees for that day ($(\frac{1}{3} \times \text{AUD } 200) \div 365$). The balance of the reserve is available for future refunds or payments to Orbis.

8. RISK WARNINGS

All investments carry risk. Different investment strategies carry different levels of risk.

It is not possible to identify every risk factor relevant to investing in the Fund. We and Orbis have detailed some of the more relevant risks below. You should consider these risks in light of your risk profile.

Market risk	Global stockmarkets and investments in general can be volatile. As such, the value of your investment in the relevant Fund may fluctuate with the markets. Global pandemics, health crises and other unforeseeable events (e.g. war) may have an adverse effect on economies and financial markets and consequently on the value of the Fund's investments. This could adversely affect the operations of Orbis and other service providers.
Geographic risk	The Fund invests in securities in many international markets, including emerging markets. There are significant risks involved in investing internationally, including political and social instability, governmental interference, liquidity risks, currency risks or foreign exchange controls.
Individual investment risk	Individual securities or instruments can and often do fall in value for many reasons. These include changes in: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• a company's internal operations or management actions, its business environment, or• investor responses. Orbis may also make investment decisions resulting in poor returns. This may result in losses for the Fund not linked to the stock market's overall returns.
Credit risk	The risk of loss can arise from an issuer failing to make principal or interest payments when due or due to insolvency or other events of default. High yield bonds are non-investment grade fixed-income securities and unrated securities of comparable credit quality are subject to the increased risk of an issuer's inability to meet principal and interest obligations. These securities may be subject to greater price volatility due to such factors as specific corporate developments, interest rate sensitivity, negative perceptions of the junk bond markets generally and less secondary market liquidity. The market value of non-investment grade fixed-income securities tends to reflect individual corporate developments to a greater extent than that of higher rated securities which react primarily to fluctuations in the general level of interest rates. Issuers of non-investment grade fixed-income securities may not be able to make use of more traditional methods of financing and their ability to service debt obligations may be more adversely affected than issuers of higher-rated securities by economic downturns, specific corporate developments or the issuer's inability to meet specific projected business forecasts. A holder's risk of loss from default is significantly greater for noninvestment grade fixed-income securities than is the case for holders of other debt securities because such securities are generally unsecured and are often subordinated to the rights of other creditors of the issuers of such securities.
Contractual or counterparty risk	The Fund may enter into transactions in OTC markets that expose it to the credit of its counterparty and its ability to satisfy the terms of such contracts. The Fund's counterparties may default on a transaction or the Fund's custodian may become insolvent or bankrupt. If this occurs, there may be additional costs or time delays associated with settling a transaction or appointing another custodian. The Fund could also incur a significant loss. This may have an effect on your ability to invest in, or redeem from the Fund. Counterparty risk can also increase where the Fund has concentrated its transactions with a single or small group of counterparties, or where the contracts have longer maturities. Similarly, emerging markets often have less developed securities settlements processes and a less developed legal system, which may delay or prevent settlement of securities transactions. Assets deposited as margin with brokers may not be held in segregated accounts by the brokers and may therefore become available to the creditors of such brokers in the event of their insolvency or bankruptcy.
Performance risk	We and Orbis do not guarantee the liquidity of the Fund's investments, repayment of capital or any rate of return or the Fund's investment performance. You may lose money by investing in the Fund or your investment in the Fund may not meet your objectives.
Fund risk	The Fund may not meet its investment objective, could terminate or dealing may be suspended. Equity Trustees or Orbis could become insolvent, there could be material changes to Orbis' investment team and the fees and expenses could materially change. Investing in the Fund may give different results than investing directly in securities or other types of instruments because of income or capital gains accrued in the Fund and the result of investors redeeming from the Fund.
Liquidity risk	Investments that trade less can be more difficult or costly to trade than more liquid or active investments. If the Fund receives one or more Significant Redemptions it may not be possible to sell the Fund's less liquid investments within the time period necessary to enable the Fund to pay out the redemption proceeds within its normal payment timeframe. As such, there could be a significant delay in processing significant redemption requests or an investor's right to redeem may be suspended in the interest of all of the investors in the Fund as a whole, even if other assets of the Fund may be readily sold. We and Orbis do not guarantee the liquidity of the Fund's investments or an investment in the Fund.

Currency risk	Fluctuations in exchange rates significantly influence global investment returns. Consequently, significant changes in exchange rates could impact the Fund's overall returns.
Fixed interest risk	Fixed interest securities are particularly affected by trends in interest rates and inflation. If interest rates increase, capital values may fall and vice versa. Inflation will erode the real value of capital. Also, issuers may not be able to honour repayment on bonds they issue. Investments in securities issued by a distressed company that is either in default or in high risk of default involve significant risk. These may include companies or institutions in weak financial condition, such as issuers with substantial capital needs or negative net worth, or issuers that are, have been or may become, involved in bankruptcy or reorganization proceedings. It may take a significant amount of time for distressed securities to realise their perceived value and/or for any restructuring to occur which would be beneficial for the Fund. There can be no assurance that this will occur and the securities may become further distressed, which could result in the Fund losing some or all of its investment in these distressed securities. In addition, an investment in distressed securities may require active participation by the Fund and this may expose the Fund to litigation risks or restrict its ability to dispose of the distressed securities. Under these circumstances, the returns generated by the Fund's investments may be less than originally expected and not commensurate with the risk assumed. Many events in a bankruptcy or insolvency scenario are the product of contested matters and adversarial proceedings that are beyond the control of the creditors. Bankruptcy or insolvency proceedings are often lengthy and their outcome is difficult to predict and could adversely impact the Fund's return. Bankruptcy and insolvency courts have extensive power and, under some circumstances, may alter contractual obligations of a distressed company. The secondary market for non-investment grade fixed-income securities is not as liquid as, and is more volatile than, the secondary market for higher-rated securities. These factors may have an adverse effect on the market price and a Fund's ability to dispose of particular portfolio investments. A less liquid secondary market also may make it more difficult for a Fund to obtain precise valuations of the high yield securities in its portfolio.
Regulatory risk	There is a risk that a government or regulator may introduce changes to law (including tax law) or policies or a court makes a decision regarding the interpretation of the law which reduces the value of the Fund's assets or adversely affects the tax treatment of the Fund and its investments.
Derivatives risk	Use of derivatives generally may result in the Fund being leveraged and can result in increased volatility in the net asset value of the Fund. The low margin deposits required by certain derivatives permit a high degree of leverage; accordingly, a relatively small price movement in a derivative may result in immediate and substantial losses to the Fund and investors. Irrespective of the risk control objectives of the Fund, such a degree of leverage necessarily entails a corresponding degree of risk. Price movements of forward currency contracts and other derivative contracts in which the assets of the Fund may be invested are highly volatile and are influenced by, among other things, interest rates, changing supply and demand relationships, trade, fiscal, monetary and exchange control programs and policies of governments, and national and international political and economic events and policies. Forward currency contracts are not traded on exchanges and are not standardised; rather, banks and dealers act as principals in these markets, negotiating each transaction on an individual basis. Forward and 'cash' trading is substantially unregulated; there is no limitation on daily price movements and speculative position limits are not applicable. There is also a possibility that ongoing derivative transactions will be terminated unexpectedly as a result of events outside Equity Trustees' or Orbis' control, for instance, bankruptcy, supervening illegality, a substantial decline in the net asset value or a change in the tax or accounting laws relative to those transactions at the time the agreement was originated. To mitigate this risk, the Fund aims to net exposures against its counterparties through, amongst other things, maintaining a limit on the level of gains or losses it may have per counterparty. The Fund may enter into contracts for differences or "swap" transactions with a view to effecting synthetic short positions in certain securities, sectors or indices. The swap market has grown substantially in recent years with a large number of banks and investment banking firms acting both as principals and as agents utilising standardised swap documentation. As a result, the swap market has become liquid but there can be no assurance that a liquid secondary market will exist at any specified time for any particular swap. Derivatives do not always perfectly or even highly correlate or track the value of the securities, rates or indices they are designed to track. Consequently, the Fund's use of derivative techniques may not always be an effective means of, and sometimes could be counter-productive to, achieving the Fund's investment objective. An adverse price movement in a derivative position may require cash payments of variation margin by the Fund that might in turn require, if there is insufficient cash available in the portfolio, the sale of the Fund's investments under disadvantageous conditions.
Fees in a falling market	In a falling market, the Fund may fall in value whilst outperforming its Benchmark. In these circumstances, the Fund will charge a performance fee even though the value of the Fund has decreased. This performance fee will be 'stored' in the reserve and the value of the reserve may rise or fall depending on the Fund's performance.

9. TAXATION

Introduction

The following summary of Australian taxation matters is a general guide that outlines the Australian taxation implications applicable to the Fund, and the Australian tax implications for Australian resident investors holding interest in the Fund on capital account.

Investors that hold interests in a Fund on revenue account should seek their own advice in relation to the Australian taxation implications.

The Australian tax laws are subject to continual change, and as the Australian tax treatment applicable to particular investors may differ, it is recommended that all investors seek their own professional advice on the Australian taxation implications before investing in the Fund. This Australian tax information is for general information purposes only and should not be relied upon for specific personal circumstances.

The summary is based on the Australian tax laws as at the date of this PDS.

Attributed Managed Investment Trust

While the Fund has made the Attributed Managed Investment Trust (AMIT) election and the Managed Investment Trust (MIT) capital gains tax (CGT) election, the concessional start-up period for the Fund to be classified as a MIT or an AMIT ceased on 30 June 2018. This means for the financial year commencing 1 July 2018 and until further notice, the Fund will not be eligible to be a MIT or an AMIT. Accordingly capital account treatment may not be applicable to gains and losses realised by the Fund and realised gains and losses may be classified as being on revenue account and not subject to the capital gains tax regime (including application of the CGT discount). Analysis will need to be performed by the Fund to identify whether gains and losses realised by the Fund are subject to revenue or capital account.

The Fund may qualify to be an AMIT at a future time within an income year or in future income years.

The following sections are on the basis that the Fund does not qualify as an AMIT.

As an investor in the Fund, how am I impacted by the Fund's activities (e.g. buying and selling of shares, receipt of dividends, foreign exchange dealings etc.)?

Broadly, an investor in the Fund is not directly impacted by the activities of the Fund. Rather, the activities of the Fund (such as the buying and selling of shares, foreign exchange and the receipt of dividends on shares) may generate income, gains, deductions and losses for the Fund for Australian income tax purposes, which are used to calculate the tax net income of the Fund for a particular income year.

Once the net taxable income of the Fund for an income year is calculated, an investor's share of that net taxable income (including relevant income components that make up that net income) is then disclosed to that investor in their annual tax statement, which should be combined with any income, deductions, gains, losses or offsets from the investor's other investments when completing their Australian income tax return.

The Fund's net taxable income can be nil or negative where the Fund's deductible expenses or losses exceed the assessable income received or gains realised. Losses are retained in the Fund and cannot be distributed to investors. Subject to certain requirements being met, losses may be carried forward and applied to reduce income received or gains realised in future years.

As an Australian investor in the Fund, what tax am I subject to?

Generally, an investor in the Fund should be subject to tax on two main 'tax events', being the distribution of net taxable income each income year, and/or upon redemption/switch/transfer of units in the Fund.

What are the Australian income tax consequences as a result of receiving a distribution from the Fund?

Broadly, Australian investors should be subject to tax on their share of the net taxable income of the Fund in respect of a particular income year, in the year in which that entitlement (share) arises, as disclosed in that investor's annual tax statement.

In relation to any foreign income distributed, this should be included in the assessable income of the investor on a gross basis (including any foreign tax withheld) and an investor may be entitled to a foreign income tax offset (FITO) to reduce the Australian tax payable on the foreign sourced income.

Any net capital gain distributed by the Fund should be taken into account by an investor on a gross basis (including the amount of any reduction in the capital gain due to the Fund applying a CGT discount). Where a discounted capital gain is distributed by the Fund, a discount of the gross capital gain amount may be available to an investor. The amount of the discount is one-half of the gross gain for individuals and trusts, and one-third for complying superannuation entities. No discount is available for a corporate investor.

An investor's distribution may also include non-assessable amounts, which under current practice are generally not subject to tax, but may have CGT consequences. Broadly, the receipt of certain non-assessable amounts (such as tax deferred or return of capital amounts) may reduce the cost base of an Australian investor's investment in the Fund, and therefore result in either an increased capital gain or reduced capital loss, upon the ultimate disposal of the investment in the Fund. An immediate capital gain may also arise where the amount of such non-assessable amounts exceeds the tax cost base of an investor's investment in the Fund. The receipt of any discounted capital gains concession amounts under current law, however, should not result in adjustments to the cost base or reduced cost base of an investor's investment in the Fund.

The Government has announced proposed law changes that may affect the discount capital gains classification at the Fund level. The proposed law change would operate to prevent the CGT discount from apply at the trust level. However draft legislation to introduce this new measure has not yet been released.

What if I elect to reinvest my distributions in the Fund?

The above income tax consequences should apply equally irrespective of whether the income is distributed after year end in cash or is reinvested. Further, the reinvested amounts should generally form the cost base of the new units acquired in the Fund.

What happens if I redeem from the Fund?

If an investor who holds their interest on capital account withdraws (redeems) any part of their investment in the Fund, it should be treated as a disposal subject to the CGT provisions. A CGT discount may be available in calculating the taxable amount of a capital gain to be included in an investor's assessable income where the investment has been held for twelve months or more (excluding the acquisition date and disposal date). The amount of CGT discount that may be available to an investor is described above.

In addition, part of the net taxable income of the Fund for the year in which the disposal occurs may also be attributed to the investor. Such particulars will be outlined in the annual tax statement of the investor.

What if I switch my investment to the Orbis Global Equity Fund, Orbis Global Equity LE Fund, Orbis Emerging Markets Equity Fund or transfer my investment to another investor?

The tax consequence is the same as if you made a withdrawal (redeemed) from the Fund.

What is the impact to an Investor if the Fund becomes an AMIT?

If the Fund qualifies as an AMIT at a future time within an income year or in a future income year, the key changes would be as follows:

- Deemed capital account treatment would apply to the Fund for the income year and certain gains and losses realised by the Fund would be subject to the capital gains tax regime (as a result of also qualifying to be a MIT).
- Taxable income and credits for the income year would be allocated to investors on a "fair and reasonable" attribution basis, rather than being allocated proportionally based on each investor's present entitlement to the income of the trust.
- Upward adjustments to the cost base of an investor's units may be available where the amount of assessable income and certain other amounts attributed to an investor exceed the cash amount received. Cost base decreases may also arise for AMITs and non-AMITs as noted above in respect of 'Australian income tax consequences as a result of receiving a distribution from the Fund'.

Investors would be notified of these impacts after the end of the relevant income year when the Fund would issue an Attribution Managed Investment Trust Member Annual (AMMA) statement. This statement would replace the current tax statement received by Investors.

Are there any tax consequences for not quoting a Tax File Number (TFN)?

It is not compulsory for an Australian investor to quote their TFN or ABN. If an Australian investor is making this investment in the course of a business or enterprise carried on by the investor, the investor may quote an ABN instead of a TFN.

However, failure by an investor to quote an ABN or TFN or claim an exemption may cause Equity Trustees to withhold tax at the top marginal rate plus the Medicare Levy, on gross payments including distributions of income to the investor. The investor may be able to claim a credit in the investors' tax return for any TFN/ABN tax withheld.

By quoting their TFN or ABN, the investor authorises Equity Trustees or their delegate to apply it in respect of all the investor's investments where Equity Trustees acts as a responsible entity. Please advise Equity Trustees if the investor does not want to quote their TFN or ABN for some investments.

What is FATCA and the OECD Common Reporting Standard and how does it impact me as an investor?

The United States (US) has introduced rules (known as the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act, or FATCA) which are intended to prevent US persons from avoiding US tax. These rules apply to the Fund. Broadly speaking the rules require EQT to report details of all US persons and suspected US persons in the Fund to the tax authorities, to prevent a 30% FATCA withholding tax on the relevant Fund's income and proceeds of disposals from certain US assets.

Similar to FACTA, the OECD Common Reporting Standard (CRS) for the automatic exchange of information, is a single global standard for the collection and reporting to tax authorities of information by financial institutions on non-Australian residents.

EQT may therefore request that investors and prospective investors provide information for us to comply with FATCA and CRS obligations.
