■ Honda History

The Birth of Honda

Soichiro Honda established Honda Motor Co., Ltd. on September 24, 1948, in Itaya-cho, Hamamatsu, Japan, with a capital of 1 Million Yen. In October of the following year, Takeo Fujisawa, who became Soichiro Honda's lifetime partner, joined as Managing Director. Together, they aimed to shape the Company into the world's top motorcycle maker.

Since its foundation, Honda has always conducted its business with a global perspective. Guided by the approach of “building products close to the customer” and striving to offer timely products that meet the needs of customers worldwide, Honda expanded its automobile production operations to regions including Asia, Europe, South America, and China.

Business and Innovation

■ Corporate Philosophy

HMSI operates on a principle followed worldwide by all Honda companies. Maintaining a global viewpoint, we are dedicated to supplying products of the highest quality at a reasonable price for worldwide customer satisfaction. Honda's philosophy is based on the Company's guiding principle and advocates two fundamental beliefs:

Respect for the Individual

Honda recognizes and respects individual differences. Respect for the individual stems from the following three points:

It is the contribution of everyone in the Company that has made our Company what it is today and will take us into the future.

The Three Joys

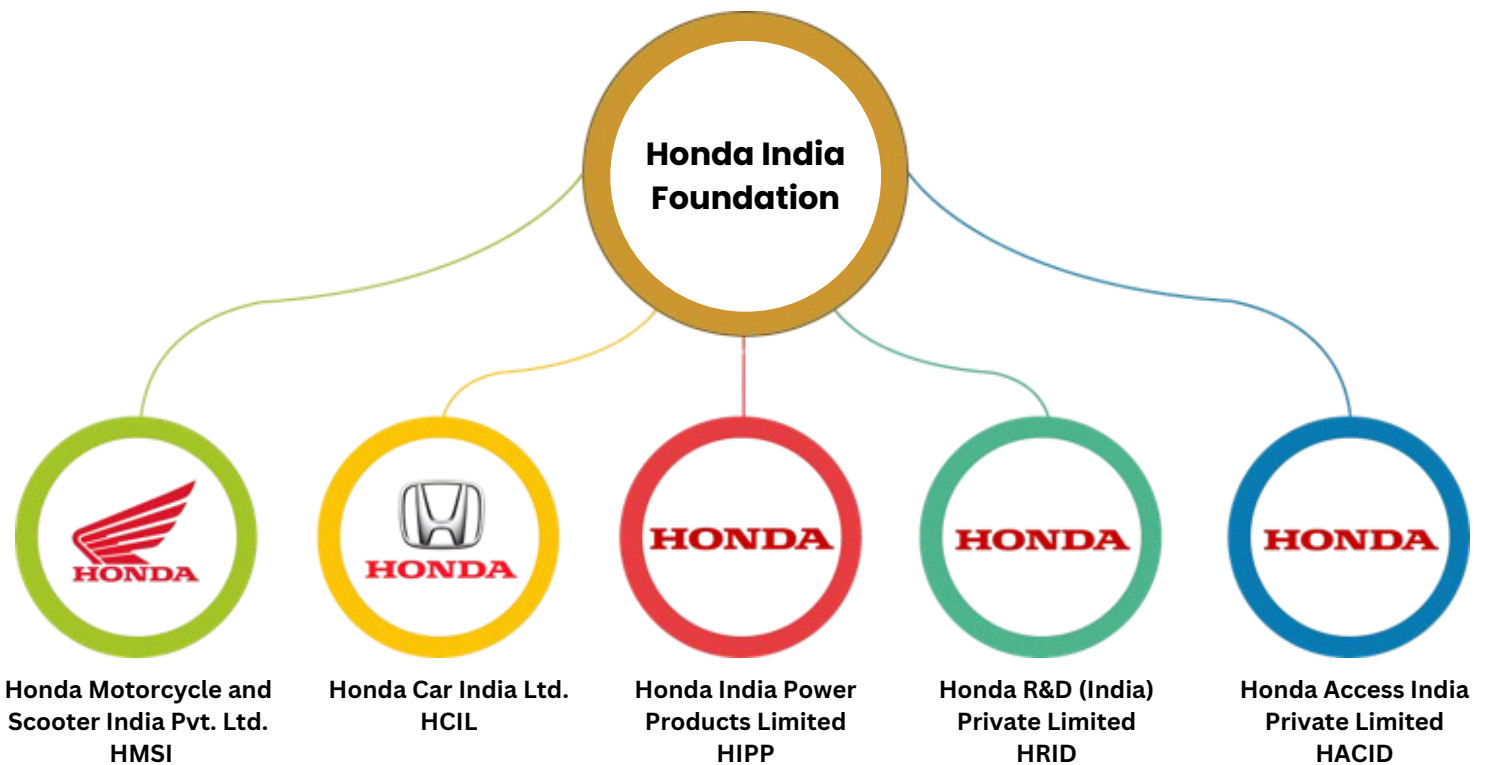

In line with Honda's Philosophy, HMSI conducts all its daily activities in pursuit of the following joys:

- The joy of buying high quality products.
- The joy of selling high quality products.
- The joy of manufacturing high quality products.

■ Corporate Social Responsibility

Honda India Foundation (HIF) is the CSR arm for all Honda group of companies in India.

The foundation undertakes focused corporate social responsibility initiatives in the areas of:

Honda globally aspires to be ‘a company that society wants to exist’ and contributes to the realization of a sustainable society by serving people worldwide with the joy of expanding their life’s potential through its social contribution activities.
