Event Overview

Today's boards must be adaptive, bold, and intentional when exercising their oversight of culture, strategy, and risk. By being resilient by design, the board and their organizations have the potential for greater impact.

WORLD-CLASS SPEAKERS

Hear from over 25 leaders and governance experts.

IN-PERSON EXPERIENCE

Expand your network and foster collaboration with in-person networking.

GAIN INSIGHTS AND EXPERTISE

Enhance your governance skills with actionable insights and best practices from topic-based breakout sessions.

Perspectives from the Conference Co-Chairs

Jim Carter, FICD

Chair, Finning International Inc. and Careers The Next Generation Foundation; Director, EllisDon Construction, Brand Safway Industrial Services Ltd.

"The ICD Conference is a much-anticipated annual platform for directors across Canada to share solutions to the challenges of modern day directorship, as well as strategies for boards to optimize opportunities."

Alice Laberge, FICD

Director, Mercer International Inc., Russel Metals, Canadian Public Accountability Board (CPAB)

"Change is constant and unrelenting. It's our duty as directors to help lead our organizations to understand and adapt to what can sometimes be seismic changes. Attending the ICD National Director Conference will give you a window into critical shifts in the business and governance landscape, and equip you with actionable insights for the boardroom."

Irfhan A. Rawji

Founder & Chair, MobSquad; Chair, The Logic; Director, Canadian Western Bank, PBA Land & Developments; Chair, CIFAR; Chair, The Institute for Canadian Citizenship; Member of the Canada Council for the Arts

"The theme of this year's ICD Conference – resilience – is critical, now more than ever. In an ever-changing and increasingly volatile macro context, resiliency has become a must-have competency for organizations and their boards."

Resilience in Action: Leading Through Complexity

Yvonne Camus understands that in complex and uncertain circumstances, we must plan for when (not if) things go wrong. Competing in the Eco-Challenge, a global adventure racing challenge in the jungles of Borneo, she learned important lessons about finding solutions, the value of resilience, and making tough decisions in highly challenging conditions. Ms. Camus will offer insight into the components of human resilience we must lean into.
