

The digital side of risk

Research and recommendations from the 2023
Economist Impact Risk Reset study

DATA 1

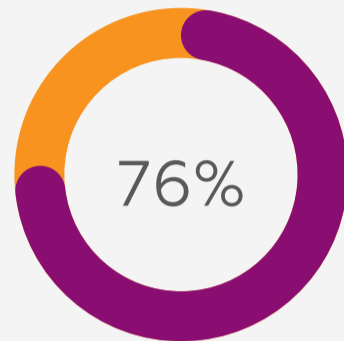

Digital risk and opportunity go hand in hand

80% of executives report that technology offers the greatest risk, and the greatest opportunity.

DATA 2

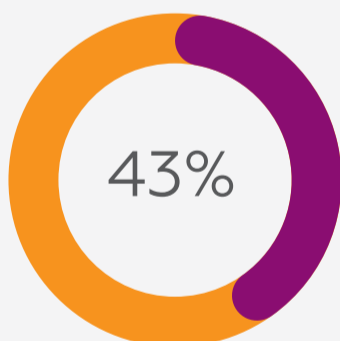

Technology risk indicators are becoming more important

76% say technology risk is more important, 16% say there was no change, and only 8% say technology indicators were less important.

DATA 3

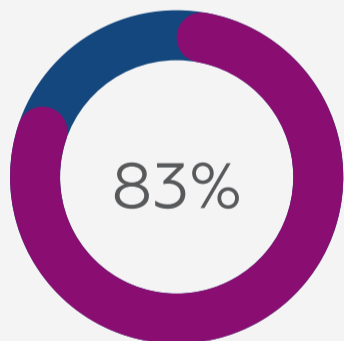

Technology risk drives risk management improvement efforts

43% of respondents are driven to improve technological risks.

DATA 4

Technology risk indicators are becoming more important

83% of executives said that they are using AI and cognitive technology in their risk management processes.

