

Boston Data Center (BOS-1)

Situated on a 58-acre campus in the quiet Boston suburb of Northborough, Iron Mountain BOS-1 is a 21,000 ft² facility with 3.6 MW of power and significant potential to scale up. BOS-1 is sustainable and efficient: as well as offering 100% renewable power, it is Boston's first ever LEED Gold multi-tenant data center, using waterless cooling to save millions of gallons annually. BOS-1 provides customers with in-house access to a range of carriers as well as seamless low-latency cloud and carrier interconnections.

“ It makes sense that we would partner with a company that can protect OUR investments and enable an unparalleled customer experience. By selecting Iron Mountain, we ensure Skillsoft's® content hosting services are industry best-in-class in both security and functionality. ”
