

Penetration Testing Services

“Available and scalable” pen testing services designed to accommodate your unique organizational needs

Validate Your Cyber Defenses Against Real-World Threats

Kroll's world-class penetration testing services merge frontline threat intelligence from over 3,000 cyber incidents handled and over 100,000 hours of cyber security assessments completed each year with a global team of certified cyber experts — the foundation for our sophisticated “available and scalable” approach.

Our pen testers use the same tactics, techniques and procedures (TTPs) as cyber adversaries to simulate a genuine attack against your organization.

Unrivalled Expertise

3000+

Cyber incidents handled per year

100,000+

Hours of offensive security work per year

Business Benefits

Enhance risk awareness

Learn whether infrastructure, systems and applications are at risk and how easily they could be targeted and compromised.

Uncover hidden vulnerabilities

Identify lesser-known and more complex vulnerabilities that automated scanning tools are unable to detect.

Receive remediation support

Receive support and guidance to prioritize and remediate vulnerabilities before they are exploited by attackers.

Demonstrate compliance

Satisfy the requirements of the GDPR, PCI DSS, ISO 27001 and other regulatory and industry mandates.

Obtain independent assurance

Ensure that security exposures aren't missed or overlooked by your in-house security team.

Prioritize future investments

Better understand your organization's security weaknesses to ensure that future investments deliver the greatest return.

Agile Penetration Testing

Agile pen testing, or continuous pen testing, is a method for integrating regular testing into your software development lifecycle (SDLC), rather than testing at infrequent points in time.

Just as features are added or updated constantly during sprints, continuous penetration testing can make sure that the security of those new features are being tested just as frequently.
