April 2025

A Few Words From Jill:

Spring is here, and with it comes one of our favorite times of the year—an opportunity to connect, learn, and grow together. We're looking forward to seeing many of you later this month at our Michigan Rural Health Clinic Network Quarterly Meeting, taking place on Wednesday, April 23, 2025 from 1–4 PM. We'll also feature a peer-to-peer discussion to hear what's working—and what's not—in your clinics.

We're excited to welcome a strong lineup of speakers:

- Stacey Adams and Dawn Bledsoe, Cardiometabolic Educators with Novo Nordisk, who provide unbranded disease state education to healthcare professionals supporting patients living with type 2 diabetes, chronic kidney disease, and cardiovascular disease.
- Jill Hewitt of Savvy Jane, a healthcare consultant with over 20 years of experience in Chronic Care Management services, workflow optimization, and data-driven solutions.

One Spot Left: Join the Diabetes Care Learning Collaborative

The Michigan Center for Rural Health, in partnership with the MDHHS Diabetes and Kidney Unit, is launching a quality improvement project designed to support diabetes care in Rural Health Clinics—and there's still one spot available to participate.

This two-track initiative combines provider education and workflow enhancements to improve diabetes management and referral processes:

Track A – Project ECHO (for providers):

Engage in a peer-learning series on managing Type 1 and Type 2 diabetes, earn free CME credits, and connect with specialists in diabetes care and continuous glucose monitoring.

Track B – Workflow Quality Improvement Collaborative (for clinic staff):

Evaluate and strengthen referral workflows for diabetic retinopathy screenings with technical assistance, data support, and shared learning opportunities.

The project involves monthly virtual sessions, a simple baseline data assessment, and plenty of guidance along the way. A small stipend is also available to support data reporting efforts.

Interested in the final spot? Reach out to Renee, our Education Manager, at renee.calkins@affiliate.msu.edu to learn more or express interest.

NEW: MDHHS launches Nurse Loan Repayment Program (NLRP)

To help increase the number of health care providers serving residents in underserved communities, the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) is launching a student loan repayment program for nurses. The Nurse Loan Repayment Program (NLRP) will assist employers in the recruitment and retention of licensed practical nurses and registered nurses who commit to providing nursing services at eligible practice sites.

The program will provide up to $300,000 in tax-free funds to successful applicants to repay educational debt over a period of up to four years for those working at state psychiatric facilities or up to 10 years for other eligible practice sites, including Rural Health Clinics. There is about $9 million available for student loan repayment. The current application cycle opens on April 30th and closes on June 4th.

Help Your Patients Quit Menthol with the Michigan Quitlink Program

The Michigan Tobacco Quitlink has launched a program to assist people trying to quit using menthol cigarettes. Interested enrollees are asked about menthol use. If they reply “yes,” they qualify for additional services.

The enrollees receive four coaching calls and eight weeks of nicotine replacement therapy which includes a choice of patch, gum and/or lozenges. Quitting menthol is more difficult than regular cigarettes so enrollees receive financial incentives to keep them engaged. They receive Visa gift cards in the amount of $10 for completing the first coaching call, $15 for the second and $25 for the third. Most often, change behavior occurs with those completing the third call and they are more likely to complete the final call. In FY 23, 42% of enrollees were using menthol and 27% reported quitting.

Study Highlights Impact of Social Risk Factors on Rural Heart Health

A recent study funded by the National Institutes of Health (NIH) found that adults living in rural areas experience significantly worse cardiovascular health outcomes than their urban counterparts—differences largely explained by social risk factors.

Researchers analyzed data from over 27,000 adults and identified substantial rural-urban disparities in cardiometabolic risk factors and cardiovascular disease, with the largest gaps seen in younger adults (ages 20–39).

The findings point to the need for strategies that address social determinants of health such as access to care, education, income, and others to improve outcomes in rural communities.

Michigan's New Car Seat Law Took Effect April 2: What to Know

Car crashes are one of the leading causes of death for children under the age of 13, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. But you can reduce your child's risk of death in a crash by 50% just by making sure they're properly restrained in the appropriate car seat, booster seat, or seat belt for their age and size.

Updates to Michigan's Child Passenger Safety Laws:

- Michigan's updated car seat law requires children under 2 years old to be in a rear-facing car seat.
- Children aged 2-5 should use a front-facing car seat with an internal harness, with straps that go over the shoulders and around the hips.
- Children under 8 or shorter than 4 feet 9 inches must use a booster seat.
- Children under the age of 13 must ride in the rear seat of a vehicle if the vehicle has one available.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration has tips on how to find the perfect car seat, recommendations, and instructions on how to install car seats.
