Example:

The screenshot displays a filtering interface for a collection. At the top, there is a 'CLEAR X' button. Below it are three filter elements: a 'Date Range' dropdown menu, a 'Categories' dropdown menu, and a 'Types (1)' button. The main content area shows two collection cards. The first card, titled 'WATER AT MSU', features a photograph of a waterfall and is dated 'Oct. 16, 2023'. The second card, titled 'DIVERSITY AND BELONGING', features a photograph of a group of people clapping and is dated 'July 5, 2023'. Each card has a small 'Collection' label in the top left corner.

Colleges and Majors Table

Admissions use only: List colleges and majors in a table format. Each table entry links to a detail page. Table is searchable by name and can be filtered by category.

Web page example: <https://admissions.msu.edu/academics/majors-degrees-programs>

Example:

The screenshot shows a search and filter interface for a table of colleges and majors. It includes two dropdown menus for 'All Colleges' and 'All Programs', and a text input field for 'Keyword search'. Below these filters is an alphabetical index of letters from A to Z. At the bottom right, it indicates 'Showing 1 to 50 of 521 entries'.

How to Apply to MSU Online Programs

We are excited that you are looking to advance your career with a Michigan State University online graduate degree and certificate program! We've provided some information below and we are happy to help get you started at MSU Online. It is important to check your corresponding program's individual site for specific requirements as well.

Prepare and Submit Your Official Documents

Students will need to identify the appropriate materials for their program of interest, as some programs have varied and/or specific requirements. Applicants should request information from the department or program of interest to find detailed program requirements, deadline dates, and admission procedures. Each application requires payment of the application fee.

Graduate International	$75

Example 2:

Mental Health Matters: Tips from MSU Leaders

During these challenging times, prioritizing our mental health is more important than ever. The University Health and Wellbeing department has compiled a video of interviews with high-level administrators, all providing insights on how they prioritize their mental health and tips to relax during stressful times. Hearing from our experienced leaders can give us the motivation and inspiration we need to work towards a better mental state. The video covers various topics, from practicing mindfulness and self-compassion to creating healthy routines and boundaries.

We warmly encourage all staff and faculty members to take a few moments out of their day to watch this video and learn how to prioritize their mental health. Taking care of ourselves is crucial to better support our community.

Tabular Directory Filters

On a Hero Banner component, display dropdown selectors for one or two Tabular Directory categories. Searching on categories navigates to the Tabular Directory list page with the filters pre-set to the category selections.

Web page example: <https://online.msu.edu/>

Example: <https://online.msu.edu/> Categories are "Degree Type" and "Field of Study".

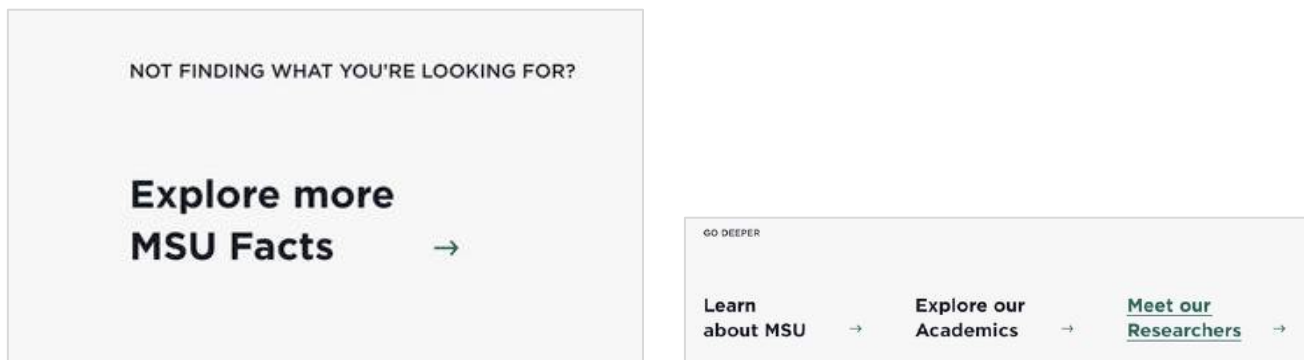

Text CTAs

Multiple text links housed in a single page component, displayed on a solid gray background.

Web page example: <https://msu.edu/>

Examples: with and without “eyebrow” title.

Text Facts

Display one or more predefined infographic Facts in a tiled (grid) layout. Optional image can be placed on right or left side.

This component requires a grid, either the Grid component or the Text Facts Grid component. Facts must be created before using the Text Fact component. Facts are stored in Global Components node or site-level Components node.

Each grid cell is assigned a Type:

- Image + 1 column of facts
- Image + 2 columns of facts
- Image + 4 columns of facts

- No image, 1-4 facts

Web page example: <https://msu.edu/academics>

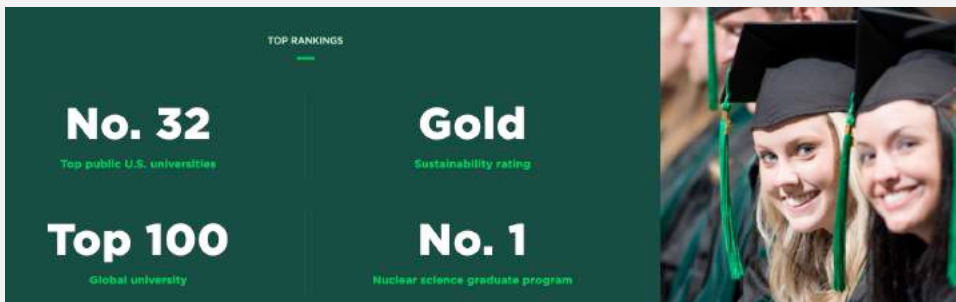

Example 1: Two Text Facts components (“200+” and “34”) displayed in a Grid component.

Program Details

The Nurse Practitioner Program, consists of three concentrations. The Nurse Practitioner-Family, Nurse Practitioner-Adult Gerontology Primary Care and Nurse Practitioner Psychiatric Mental Health concentrations focus on the preparation of advanced practice registered nurses as nurse practitioners.

Nurse practitioners are in direct-care provider roles and use specialty skills and knowledge in providing care to clients of all ages and stages of development in primary care settings. The nurse practitioner curriculum prepares nurses to function interdependently with other healthcare providers to provide primary care. They assess the physical, socio-emotional, and developmental states of individual clients and their families. Along with analyze health behavior, apply clinical judgment, and intervene in a manner to improve the quality and effectiveness of healthcare delivery. Nurse practitioners provide health promotion therapeutics, as well as early recognition and prompt treatment and management of illness, prevention of complications, and needed rehabilitation. Client and family education, guidance, and advocacy are vital characteristics of the nurse practitioner's role. Graduates of the program will be eligible for certification as a nurse practitioner in their population focus area.

Program Outcomes

The DNP focuses on developing skills in evaluating evidence, utilizing appropriate research in decision-making, and developing and implementing clinical innovations to advance practice and improve patient care.
