

ASIAN PACIFIC AMERICAN HERITAGE MONTH 1994

ha • pa (ha'pa) adj. 1. Slang of mixed racial heritage with partial roots in Asian and/or Pacific Islander heritage. [der./Hawaiian: hapa haole. (half white)]

"BANANA SPLIT & OTHER MIX UPS"

Featuring Kip Fulbeck

THURSDAY

APRIL 14, 1994

ERICKSON KIVA 7:00 pm

free admission

Combining stand-up comedy, personal narratives, film, and sound, banana split & other mix ups pulls the plug on the "hapa experience". Coming from a Cantonese, English, Irish, and Welsh background, Kip Fulbeck takes the viewer through childhood fights and adult dilemmas, attacks interracial dating stereotypes and media portrayals of Asian men, all the while exposing icons of race and sex in contemporary America. Shifting from the Saturday morning Chinese school/piano lesson kid to the white male with an Asian fetish, exposing everything from Bruce Lee to Connie Chung to David Carradine to his first Asian American date -- Fulbeck's performance pushes your buttons. It will make you laugh. It will make you angry. But most importantly, it will force you to reconsider what you think being Asian American really means.

sponsored by

OFFICE OF MINORITY STUDENT AFFAIRS
ASIAN PACIFIC AMERICAN STUDENT ORGANIZATION
OFFICE OF THE PROVOST

FOR MORE INFORMATION & QUESTIONS, PLEASE CALL MAGGIE CHEN: 353-7745