- Oversaw the preparation of Fall semester instruction amid COVID-19 pandemic

Associate Provost for Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies (formerly AP for Graduate Education) and Dean of the Graduate School, September 2017–January 2022

This office supports over 11,000 PhD, Masters, graduate-professional students and postdocs at MSU. We oversee and provide guidance to the Office of Postdoctoral Affairs and the fourteen graduate-degree granting colleges, including three medical colleges and the Law School, with nearly 125 PhD programs and 150 Masters programs along with other professional and post-baccalaureate certificate programs, administering over $20M in Fellowship Funds.

- Created a university-wide strategic plan for the Graduate School and graduate education
 - Restructured funding support to advance recruitment and retention efforts around DEI and to facilitate time-to-degree and professional development
 - Reforming mentorship efforts within and around graduate education
 - Leading Strategic Program Assessment (program review)
 - Augment data availability and transparency (to support program evaluation, mentoring, training grants, etc.)
 - Created and filled position of director of development and launched development activities
- Created and launched the Office of Postdoctoral Affairs
- Revised approvals processes for time to degree extensions and service on graduate committees
- Expanded mentoring expectations and development opportunities
- Expand collaboration on international initiatives in Africa, China and Latin America
- Led and completed the integration of the College of Law into MSU
- Co-chair of SIS modernization committee, implementation of Campus Solutions
- Executive sponsor for campus-wide adoption of Slate admissions system (undergrad and grad)

Associate Dean for Graduate Studies, College of Social Science, 2015–2017

Part of the senior leadership team in the largest graduate college at MSU, this position provides vision, leadership, guidance and administrative oversight for over 30 Master's Programs, 20 PhD Programs (including 6 dual-degree programs), and 20 Certificate Programs and Graduate Specializations across the eight academic departments, four professional schools, and ten institutes, centers and programs, administering over $1M in Fellowship Funds.

- Led a change in the culture of program administration and student advising, increasing communications and expectations-settings, resulting a shortening of time-to-degree and increased completion rates.
- Led change in college-wide communications and collaborations in graduate education across the different programs and units.
- Reformed fellowship fund allocations mechanisms and increased funding by over $100k.
- Provided leadership in developing the College strategic plan, facilitating goal setting, strategy formulation, and developing appropriate metrics

Director, American Economic Association Summer Program, 2015–2018

The AEA Summer Program targets talented students from underrepresented backgrounds to prepare them for graduate work in economics and related fields. The program is awarded competitively every five years. Over 100 promising students participated during my three years as director of the program.

- Secured financial support (approx. $4M) from the AEA, the National Science Foundation, the Federal Reserve System and private sponsors, as well as other units across MSU (including the Resource Center for Persons with Disabilities to enable a deaf student to enroll in the program)
- Negotiated an MOU with Western Michigan University for teaching and administrative support
- Designed the program and served as its inaugural Director
- Developed and saw through academic governance of a two-tiered, two-month long curriculum covering 24 academic credits, a seminar series and three field excursions
- Hired and oversaw ten faculty and administrators for the program as well as a support staff
- Recruited current PhD students from under-represented backgrounds in economics from across the US as fellows to support the program

Director of Graduate Studies, Department of Economics, College of Social Science, MSU, 2002–2005

This position administered the Masters and PhD programs with over 100 students.

- Oversaw recruitment, program structures, retention and placement efforts
- Performed extensive self-review and benchmark peer-comparison study of the PhD program
- Led reform of the program resulting in considerable increases in degree completion, shortening of time-to-degree (and thus increasing the faculty-to-student ratio) and an increase in the diversity of the student body
