

Milliman Smartshield GSS Series - Moderate

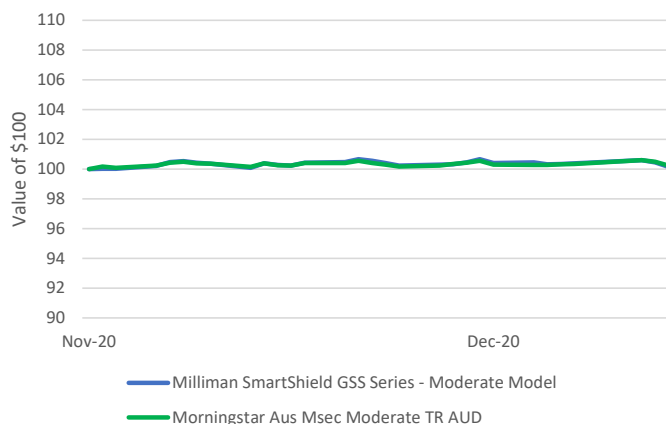

Quarter in Review - Q4 2020

MARKET SNAPSHOT

After an unpredictable year, Santa has well and truly come to town early in the eyes of investors and more broadly everyone still living life in the current "COVID-normal". Markets surged on the back of Joe Biden's victory in the US Presidential Election in November as well as promises of further large-scale stimulus from both out-going president Trump and president elect Joe Biden. Having said that, uncertainty is still prevalent, led by a new wave of COVID cases in Sydney just before Christmas as well as surges of a new strain in the UK; investors are being kept on their toes.

The ASX200 surged 13.3% this quarter, following the lead of the S&P 500 which gained 11.7% thanks to the election result and further stimulus. Volatility tapered off across the quarter, with the VIX on the ASX 200 dropping down to 13.9%, a drop of just over 7.5 points. The VIX on the S&P 500 meanwhile remains elevated, dropping only 3.62 points to end at 22.75%. The US Dollar continues to weaken against the other major currencies thanks to the large stimulus spending. The Aussie Dollar gained 7.4% against the Greenback, closing the quarter off at 76.94 US Cents.

SMARTSHIELD OVERLAY

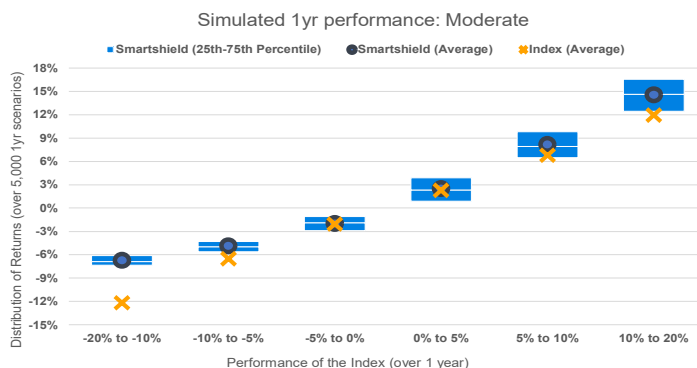

The risk management overlay continued to provide a critical role in the fourth quarter of 2020 as markets remained uncertain on how peaceful the transition between Donald Trump and Joe Biden administrations would be. Hedging levels have tapered off as markets continued to rally, allowing the portfolio more participation on the upside.

Market volatility remains elevated as new COVID cases continue to surge around the world. The moderate portfolio ended the December quarter with net equity exposure at 32.5%.

PERFORMANCE OUTLOOK

With the incoming Biden administration comes the promise of even more large-scale stimulus measures to keep the American economy going as they continue to battle viral outbreaks. While vaccines are beginning to be rolled out across the UK and US, the spread of new strains in the UK is a cause for concern. As we head into potentially another year of COVID uncertainties, providing investors protection with their life savings is as important as ever.

As a result of the portfolio's tilt towards growth assets and the Smartshield overlay winding back its hedges, the portfolio is expected to outperform its comparable index if markets performs strongly going forward. However, in the event of any future market sell-offs, the dynamic risk management strategy is well positioned to act swiftly just as it did in the beginning of 2020.
