

Jonathan Gearty

Product Development Manager

CURRENT RESPONSIBILITY

Jon Gearty is a Product Development Manager for Milliman's Employee Benefits (EB) Administration practice. In this role, he partners with EB Administration business units to identify and build out competitive products and services to continue to enhance Milliman's comprehensive suite of services in the total retirement plan outsourcing space. This includes defined benefit administration, defined contribution administration, health & welfare benefits administration, and communication consulting. Jonathan has been with Milliman since 2020.

EXPERIENCE

Jon brings more than 20 years of experience in product management, development and pricing, and advisory services. He possesses an extensive knowledge of defined contribution plans, defined benefit plans, non-qualified plans, annuities, and mutual fund products.

Before joining Milliman, he served as Senior Product Manager Retirement Services for Voya Financial. There, Jon led development activities for a new managed account/fiduciary product in the corporate and tax-exempt markets. His experience also includes providing pricing, marketing, sales, client services, and technical support.
