Current Responsibility

Fabrice is an actuary and leads the non-life practice in Milliman's Paris office. He joined the firm in 2008.

Professional Work Experience

Fabrice has 15 years of working experience as a non-life actuary.

Prior to joining Milliman, Fabrice worked for seven years as a manager and senior manager in the actuarial department of Deloitte in Paris (2002-2008), and for three years as an actuary in the non-life actuarial department of ZFS in Paris.

His experience includes:

- Review of deterministic and stochastic reserves of several non-life insurers and reinsurers, in the context of independent estimations and audit supports, in France, Southern and Eastern Europe, and North Africa. Extensive experience in motor liability reserves reviews for large players and expertise in specific related issues (e.g., impact of annuities and increase of cost of BI claims, FGAO reform).
- Mergers and acquisitions assignments for various players in Europe and Africa.
- Solvency II projects: Development and review of internal models, QIS studies (solo entities and groups), gap analyses on the three pillars, assistance in the choice of actuarial platforms, ORSA and use test.
- Predictive analytics.
- Pricing.

Fabrice speaks frequently at industry and professional meetings.
