Current Responsibility

Ed Jhu is a principal and consulting actuary specializing in healthcare consulting in the Seattle office of Milliman. He joined the firm in 1999.

Professional Work Experience

Ed's expertise is in group healthcare, with an emphasis on government-sponsored programs (including Medicare and VHA), and health care payer/provider relations. His experience covers a broad spectrum, including providers, payers, and purchasers. His consulting assignments have included:

- Evaluating and comparing provider contracts, including development of the Hospital Evaluation and Comparison System (HECS) and GlobalRVUs, which are Medicare-based contract comparison tools
- Developing and reviewing alternative provider payment arrangements, supporting both providers and payers
- Developing Reasonable and Customary Charge Models
- Comparing provider reimbursements for contract parity analyses
- Conducting Medicare Advantage bid support for both Part C and Part D
- Estimating financial impacts of regulatory and policy changes
- Projecting liabilities for claims incurred but not paid
- Preparing and certifying annual actuarial opinions
- Developing and implementing risk adjustment algorithms and relative morbidity analyses
- Projecting contribution rates for Multiple Employer Welfare Arrangements

In addition to his experience in healthcare, Ed also has extensive employee benefits experience with both Milliman and other consulting firms.
