Milliman Mind wins two InsuranceERM Awards for its innovative “no-code” modelling technology

Milliman Mind awarded “End-user computing risk management solution of the year” and “Best use of cloud technology”

SEATTLE – JUNE 11, 2025– Milliman, Inc., a premier global consulting and actuarial firm, is pleased to announce that its Milliman Mind software has won two InsuranceERM Awards for 2025 in the Americas: “End-user computing risk management solution of the year” and “Best use of cloud technology.”

Milliman Mind® is the first no-code solution designed by actuaries for actuaries, offering clients a portfolio of financial modeling and compliance solutions that save time, automate laborious manual processes, and simplify complex tasks. Whether for pricing, reserving, capital modeling, or any other model, Milliman Mind’s industry-leading approach enables actuaries to boost their productivity while securing results, without having to write a single line of code.

“We’re proud that Milliman Mind is so positively received—and used—by our fellow actuarial community members,” said Pierre Miehé, Milliman Principal and head of Milliman Mind. “The honor of winning these awards underscores our commitment to accelerating solutions for a world at risk”

The prestigious annual InsuranceERM Awards - Americas recognize the very best in risk management, actuarial and risk modelling practices, as well as the leading service and technology providers in the Americas. Independently judged, the awards are highly respected and a great recognition of achievement and excellence.
