

PRESS RELEASE

February 2025

Enforce Tac 2025: The leading Platform for Innovation and Collaboration

Security, defence and innovation: Enforce Tac 2025, the leading trade fair for internal and external security, will open its doors from February 24th to 26th, 2025 in Nuremberg, welcoming national and international experts from the security and defence sectors. Enforce Tac 2025 will be accompanied by a diverse program focusing on cutting-edge solutions and exchanges about the latest industry developments.

Exclusive for law enforcement and armed forces

Enforce Tac is an admission-restricted trade fair accessible only to a selected audience. Access is granted exclusively to members of the armed forces and to authorities and organizations with police or military security tasks. This exclusive focus ensures a highly specialized, targeted atmosphere that promotes professional exchange while maintaining the highest security standards.

Anticipation is high

“It’s always a highlight to experience Enforce Tac – and 2025 will be no exception. We expect around 1,000 exhibitors and over 15,000 trade visitors who can look forward to enriching conversations, new solutions, and valuable insights. I’m excited to see how the fair continues to evolve each year and am very much looking forward to shaping these three days together with all our exhibitors, visitors, and partners,” expresses Isabelle Teufert, Event Director of Enforce Tac, her anticipation.

With around 1,000 exhibitors occupying nearly 50,000 square meters across five halls, Enforce Tac 2025 is larger than ever before. The fair sets new benchmarks in the industry with its program, including the second edition of the Enforce Tac Village in weather-protected Hall 8, where renowned companies such as md textil, Rheinmetall, Diehl Defence, and many others will showcase their latest innovations live. Enhancing the fair experience is Enforce Tac TV, offering exhibitors a digital stage, and a diverse program featuring the German-Nordic Defence Industry Dialogue, exclusive networking formats, specialized conferences (DHPol, UAV DACH), and the premiere event AMMO SYMPOSIUM.

As part of Enforce Tac 2025, the Carl-Cranz-Gesellschaft e.V. is also conducting an engaging seminar in close collaboration: “Drone / UAV Warfare: State of the Art and Future Developments.” Speaker Ulf Barth specializes in drone use with AI and drone swarms. “We have 20 participants from heavy industry, research, and authorities on site and are delighted with the response we have generated. The seminar is fully booked,” Barth adds.

Christian Munz, Managing Director of CCG, notes: “The CCG seminar on drone warfare is in high demand and is our latest addition to the society’s broad portfolio. Our collaboration with Enforce Tac is a milestone in the development of our institution, which has been more than 60 years in the making.”

Additionally, the Enforce Tac program includes high-level VIP appointments and international pavilions, adding an international dimension. This combination of innovation, dialogue, and exclusive events makes Enforce Tac 2025 an essential industry meeting.

Anticipation among exhibitors is also high

“As a leading provider of missile systems and air defence solutions, Enforce Tac 2025 offers us an outstanding opportunity to showcase our innovative solutions to an international professional audience,” says Jochen D., Vice President Land Systems of MBDA Deutschland GmbH. “We are proud to be part of national and European security preparedness. As an industrial partner to our armed forces, exchanging ideas with representatives from the military, politics, and industry is of particular importance to us. Enforce Tac brings together high-ranking experts from the security and defence sectors under one roof, providing the perfect setting for intensive and informative exchanges.”

The anticipation for Enforce Tac 2025 is also significant among other exhibitors. “For us, as a leading provider of defence technology, Enforce Tac is primarily a forum for dialogue and a meeting place to forge new contacts and deepen partnerships – and, above all, to engage with our customers,” adds Oliver Hoffmann, Senior Vice President Corporate Media Relations at Rheinmetall AG. “Many significant partners are here, and we look forward to the discussions this fair enables. In an industry that is constantly evolving, we see Enforce Tac in Germany as a renowned showcase of companies and a proven communication platform that continues to grow in importance.”

Enforce Tac 2025 will be rounded off by the presence of numerous high-ranking personalities, including members of the diplomatic and consular corps. The highlight will be on Wednesday with the patronage of Enforce Tac, Joachim Herrmann (Bavarian State Minister of the Interior, for Sport and Integration).

Save the date

Enforce Tac is an international trade fair established as a platform for the security and defence sector. It offers the industry the opportunity to develop promising perspectives and to collaborate to strengthen the internal and external security of Germany and Europe as a whole. In 2025, the fair will expand to fill five halls and around 50,000 m<sup>2</sup> of display area, where some 1,000 exhibitors from about 50 countries will showcase their solutions for internal and external security.

Enforce Tac will be held at Exhibition Centre Nuremberg from 24 to 26 February 2025. For more information please visit: www.enforcetac.com
