

OFFENSIVE THREAT INTELLIGENCE

Increased Security with Offensive Threat Intelligence

Our Offensive Threat Intelligence service will leverage the latest threats facing your organization through the continuous use of tailored attacks to test the resilience of your defenses. Our team is constantly developing customized exploits from new and known vulnerabilities that enable the preparedness and ongoing defense of your systems against advanced persistent threats.

Blue Frost Security will use the latest techniques mapped into MITRE ATT&CK as well as highly reliable N-day exploits specific to your environment to ensure your systems are safe from the latest threats, as well as to test the response of your SIEM and threat intelligence systems.

You no longer have to worry about vulnerability management in your environment. With our Offensive Threat Intelligence service, our team will consistently test, uncover and verify new vulnerabilities in your systems and notify your team immediately in case new threats succeed to bypass your defenses.
