it-sa expands partner network with CISO Alliance

- First professional association as part of partner network

“Qualification, networking, promotion” is the slogan under which the CISO Alliance is bringing together IT security managers and CISO-related professional functions. In becoming a new partner to it-sa, this professional association has acquired a special position: The CISO Alliance is the first partner organization to join it-sa in the form of a professional affiliation.

“We are very pleased to be working with the CISO Alliance, and firmly believe that this will add significant value for representatives of the CISO-level professions,” says Frank Venjakob, Executive Director it-sa. “it-sa offers everyone with responsibility in a position such as Chief Information Security Officer a unique platform in the form of it-sa 365 online and the in-person it-sa Expo&Congress in Nuremberg.”

Ron Kneffel, Chair of the Board of the CISO Alliance, comments: “The demands on information security and IT security managers are growing and changing dynamically. As an association for the CISO profession, the CISO Alliance addresses the many professional challenges this group faces. We are very pleased with this partnership with it-sa and we are looking forward to the it-sa Expo&Congress. As a leading IT security trade fair, it is a central information and networking platform for IT security professionals in all sectors. The CISO Alliance is joining the programme with a CISO panel and participation in the Women in Cybersecurity series.”
