Riding the DIGITAL WAVE

Technology has undoubtedly brought about much convenience. However, there are seniors who may lack the confidence to go digital. To ensure our seniors are equipped with digital skills, many resources are available to help them overcome their fears and be more digitally connected.

Silver Infocomm Wellness Ambassadors (SIWA) Programme: This collaboration between People's Association (PA) Active Ageing Council and Infocomm Media Development Authority's SG Digital Office appoints tech-savvy seniors as SIWAs, many of whom also volunteer to guide their peers in going digital.

Digital for Life: Digital Clubs: PA and the SG Digital Office have partnered to form Digital for Life: Digital Clubs, interest groups tailored for seniors and residents to pick up digital skills and knowledge. SIWAs build their peers' confidence in using technology. The Club activities also foster camaraderie and encourage seniors to support each other's learning.

SG Digital Community Hubs: SG Digital Office's Digital Ambassadors are located at selected Community Clubs/Centres (CCs) and Public Libraries, as well as 200 roving counters located island-wide to guide seniors in communicating online, accessing digital government services and transacting digitally, as well as learning about online safety and security.

Live Prepared Digital Skills Workshops: Under Singapore's 'Live Well, Age Well' Programme, seniors can join structured digital workshops periodically organised at CCs and Residents' Committee (RC)/Residents' Network (RN) Centres.

Online Tutorials and Webinars: Many platforms and websites offer free tutorials and webinars on various topics including technology.

Other than these national initiatives, our WeCare PALs have also been collaborating with our grassroots organisations to reach out to our seniors through anti-scam workshops.

Anti-Scam Sharing @ Buona Vista's "Breakfast with Love"

Our WeCare PALs partner, UOB, conducted a Scam Awareness Workshop for over 80 residents of Commonwealth Close during Buona Vista's "Breakfast with Love" on 19 August 2023. The workshop gave residents an insight into recent scam tactics and the dos and don'ts to prevent them from becoming scam victims.

Anti-Scam and Everyday Banking with POSB digibank

Another of our WeCare PALs partners, POSB, conducted an 'Anti-Scam and Everyday Banking with POSB digibank' workshop for 80 senior residents of Bukit Purmei Zone B RC on 23 September 2023. Other than sharing common scam tactics, POSB volunteers also shared security tips on safeguarding against online scams. Residents also had a hands-on session on how to protect and secure their online banking transactions.

Let's Get DIGITAL!

Muhammadiyah Association collaborates with the PA Integration Division to equip seniors with digital literacy skills and educate them on online scam awareness. Through this collaboration, youth volunteers guide seniors in digital tools that can enhance their daily lives.

Muhammadiyah Association, with the PA Integration Division, co-facilitated the Jom Surf! digitalisation workshops where seniors are guided to use essential mobile applications such as Zoom, WhatsApp and Singpass. Participants are also educated on online scams and provided with tips. This helps them stay informed and vigilant to minimise the risk of falling victim to scams. By raising seniors' awareness and sharing practical tips, they can then safeguard themselves against scams while navigating the digital world.

Muhammadiyah Association was a first-time Award Recipient at this year's PA Community Spirit Awards for its contributions.

Started by the PA MESRA Youth Sub-Committee, Jom Surf! is an initiative that encourages seniors to attend physical digitalisation workshops. Besides fostering warm intergenerational relationships between the seniors and the youths, the workshop also helps seniors learn how to identify scams and to be more careful when sharing their personal information with others.
– Ms Roszanah Abdul Salim, General Secretary, Muhammadiyah Association

Small Acts, BIG IMPACT

Giving back to society doesn't always require grand gestures or big commitments — these simple yet impactful ways will do the trick. Let's embrace these practices for a more compassionate and united society!

Spread Kindness

Have you ever wondered why it feels good to have someone doing something nice for you? That's because little acts of kindness show that we can be kind and empathetic. Do the same for your community by pet-sitting or watering a neighbour's plants when they are on holiday, or checking in with elderly neighbours who live alone.

Be an Eco-Warrior

With environmental concerns becoming more pressing, adopting responsible recycling practices is a simple but impactful way to give back to society. These include conserving energy and water, as well as practising the 3Rs – Reduce, Reuse, Recycle. You can also help to spread the message of sustainable living further by encouraging your friends and family to do the same.

#SupportLocal

As Singapore is home to a vibrant mix of local small and medium-sized enterprises, one of the best ways to give back is by supporting these businesses and entrepreneurs. From purchasing products made in Singapore to dining at neighbourhood eateries, doing so will help to boost the local economy as well as the hardworking individuals behind these businesses.

Contribute to a Cause

There are numerous community organisations that offer meaningful volunteering opportunities in various causes, such as education, environmental conservation, animal welfare and social services.

PA Community Volunteering provides flexibility for you to choose the causes you wish to contribute towards and determine the level of commitment.

Keen to volunteer together with like-minded individuals for a common community cause? Sign up as a Community Volunteer at www.onepa.gov.sg and start exploring available volunteering opportunities!

RHYTHM in the Streets

Did you know that Singapore has a vibrant busking scene? Check out these popular spots filled with talented street performers that enliven our public spaces with their creative and entertaining ways!

Scan the below QR code to check out the latest schedule of buskers and busking locations islandwide:

ORCHARD ROAD

High-end retail outlets aside, Orchard Road is equally known for its bustling busking scene, with talented musicians, dancers and street performers entertaining shoppers and passersby alike. Take a leisurely stroll along the walkways and enjoy the live music and performances that add a vibrant ambience to this already lively shopping district.

CLARKE QUAY

Filled with an array of dining options and entertainment choices, this picturesque setting comes alive as the sun sets, with buskers showcasing their talents along the area's waterfront to add an extra layer of excitement to your evening.

ESPLANADE PARK

An iconic performing arts centre where the arts come to life, Esplanade – Theatres on the Bay hosts numerous family-friendly events and festivals throughout the year. But did you know that the nearby Esplanade Park is also abuzz with buskers on the weekends? Offering a diverse mix of music and dance acts, you can indulge in the arts while enjoying the stunning backdrop of the Marina Bay area.

If you love live performances and street parades, keep a look out for the Chingay Parade 2024!

Set against the backdrop of the Chinese New Year festivities, the Chingay Parade is an annual extravaganza that brings the community together to celebrate Singapore's multi-ethnic cultures and traditions.

Taking place during the last weekend of February 2024, prepare to be mesmerised by a large-scale live performance showcasing talented artists, community-created floats and an exclusive PAssionArts installation and showcase!

But the fun doesn't end there – the Chingay celebration continues into March 2024, bringing the joy and excitement right into your heartlands.

For more information on the parade, visit www.chingay.gov.sg or connect with us on social media @ChingayParadeSG.

GARDENS in the Sky

Rooftop gardens have taken root in Singapore, bringing a breath of fresh air into our high-rise cityscape. Here are some of the most interesting rooftop gardens across the city.

Eco-Community Garden @ Our Tampines Hub

Within the Our Tampines Hub complex, the Eco-Community Garden is a green oasis where residents and visitors come together to cultivate, learn and bond over sustainable urban living practices. Open to the public from 9am to 6pm daily, the garden is home to more than 50 varieties of fruits, vegetables and herbs. The Tempinis tree – from which Tampines got its name – can also be found in the garden.

Community engagement is an important element at the Eco-Community Garden. Volunteers gather weekly to help with tasks such as watering, pruning of dead leaves and loosening of hardened soil. Fresh garden harvests and organic fertilisers are distributed to residents and visitors monthly, benefiting 70 households. Additionally, "OTH Gardening Kakis" (gardening workshops and sharing sessions) are held to equip participants with the information and skills to integrate eco-friendly practices into their daily life. Topics covered include organic gardening and composting.

Kallang Trivista Community Garden

Kallang Trivista's community garden is an example of how HDB gardens can bring neighbours together. Maintained by residents who participate in various gardening activities, the garden serves as a buzzing hub for passionate gardening enthusiasts.

Set against views of the Kallang River and National Stadium, visitors to the garden will have the opportunity to marvel at a variety of plants, including aromatic herbs, flowering shrubs and fruit trees.

HDB Green Towns Programme (GTP)

Launched in 2020, GTP is a 10-year plan to make HDB towns more sustainable and liveable. One of the key initiatives under the programme is Greenery Intensification, where the top decks of selected multi-storey car parks in HDB estates will be repurposed for extensive greenery, and/or community/allotment gardens.

This initiative aims to cool the surroundings and provide a space for residents and aspiring gardeners to get together and grow their own greens and beautify their HDB estates. The first allotment garden on the roof of an HDB car park is in Jurong West, and at least two more allotment gardens in Woodlands and Sembawang will be completed in 2024.

CULINARY Bonds

In vibrant and multicultural Singapore, the passion for food is deeply ingrained in the fabric of our society. Viewed as an experience, a celebration and a way of connecting with one another, food transcends mere sustenance; it's our way of life.

Singapore's culinary landscape is representative of its diverse population, comprising, among others, a fusion of Chinese, Malay, Indian and Peranakan cuisines. This blend of ethnic backgrounds has given rise to a wide variety of flavours, textures and aromas that define the local cuisine.

Singaporeans are also known for their eagerness to experiment and push culinary boundaries. Chefs and home cooks alike have begun infusing traditional flavours with contemporary twists, creating unique dishes that have established Singapore as a global culinary powerhouse.

The Highlight of Gatherings

Food has always been a universal way of bringing people together, and communal dining is a practice that has long been embraced. As such, the focal point of any event — be it a family reunion, a special occasion or a casual get-together with friends — often revolves around a lavish spread of delectable dishes. As the common thread that weaves social interactions together, food is also a great way to break the ice and encourage conversations.

Amidst the hustle and bustle of everyday life, the passion Singaporeans have for food reminds us that the simple act of gathering around a table to share a meal strengthens relationships and creates cherished memories. Therefore, it is important to make time to gather for a meal with your family and friends to satisfy our taste buds and nourish our relationships.

Looking for some delectable treats to impress your guests at your next gathering? Look no further!

For a delightful tea-time session, indulge in Dunkin's scrumptious donuts that are sure to satisfy your friends with a sweet tooth. And why not add some perfectly fried finger food from Shake Shake in a Tub to the mix?
