LOOKING BACK TO THE FUTURE

As Singapore marches into 2023, look back at some of the year's biggest, brightest and most-loved events. And here's the good news—they are all coming back soon!

ORCHARD ROAD LIGHT UP

The entire length of Singapore's celebrated shopping district becomes brighter and even more brilliant every Christmas season, from November to January. That is a result of Christmas on A Great Street, the annual Orchard Road light-up from Tanglin Mall all the way down to Plaza Singapura, which wows locals and tourists alike. Last year, roses and poinsettias wound across road archways as Singapore celebrated the theme "Christmas in Bloom", along with a nightly augmented reality (AR) show that premiered along the Mandarin Orchard Singapore wall, surprising and delighting passers-by.

For this year's edition, light-up organiser Orchard Road Business Association is planning a 1.5-month event full of festivities. Look forward to a shimmering street of lights that promises to be great for the 'gram. There will also be pop-up stores and performances (and The Great Christmas Village!) for that magical touch of holiday cheer. Time to get back downtown!

MARINA BAY SINGAPORE COUNTDOWN

When we think "countdown", we think of the Marina Bay Singapore Countdown. It's one of the nation's most beloved (also hippest) 21st-century traditions. The Countdown organisers at the Urban Redevelopment Authority played it safe (kudos!) when ringing in 2022, with evergreen, true-blue favourites such as the colourful Share the Moment projections, which illuminated the Bay with a cheerful kaleidoscope of colours.

The Bay is set to light up again this year-end, with the return of crowd-favourite fireworks after a two-year absence. Also, expect more dazzling projection artworks from the community as Share the Moment makes a comeback! So come on down for all the lights and action (bring your camera!), and join in the energetic and riveting Countdown to usher in 2023 and celebrate better days forward.

LIGHT TO NIGHT

The annual Light to Night Festival in the Civic District is one of Singapore Art Week's marquee events. Between 14 January and 3 February 2022, the visual arts festival illuminated the precinct with projection mapping showcases by local artists, multi-sensory art installations welcoming neurodivergent audiences, live performances and insightful conversations providing visitors thought-provoking perspectives on the world during the "new normal".

Light to Night Festival is coming back in January 2023! Look out for the Art Skins on Monuments, a full-on visual spectacle where entire heritage buildings across the Civic District, like National Gallery Singapore, the Asian Civilisations Museum, Victoria Theatre & Concert Hall, and The Arts House, become massive canvases for visual and sonic art.

CHINGAY PARADE

Chingay Parade Singapore is one of Asia's largest street performances and float parades, where everyone unites to celebrate this uniquely Singaporean multi-ethnic culture and tradition during the Chinese New Year period. The February 2022 Golden Jubilee Chingay at the iconic Jewel Changi Airport featured 17 mini floats made from balloons and 3D art — such a colourful display of the community efforts from 1,400 diverse people across Singapore!

For 2023, Chingay is set to be back as a large-scale parade of live performances with show elements, bringing the community together for a vibrant and brighter Singapore. Look out for more Chingay Parade 2023 announcements on our PA platforms.

Keep a lookout for exciting updates on Chingay 2023!

ADVENTURES ALL ALONG THE ROUND ISLAND ROUTE

Take the family out on an epic adventure locally this holiday season! The 75km Round Island Route (RIR) now covers all of the eastern perimeter of Singapore. It is by far the island's longest recreational connection.

For the best start, enter the RIR through any of six highly accessible park-RIR Connectivity Points. You can choose to hike, jog, skate or cycle along the route. Personal Mobility Device (PMD) users are welcome too. Do bring enough water to adequately hydrate as well!

At your leisure, stop along the RIR's strategic lookout points and boardwalks for endless views of the sea (and neighbouring islands on exceptionally clear days). Traverse its bridges, and try to spot the rare and endangered plants specially curated to thrive along its length — the 40m tall Sea Beam teakwood trees with pink and white flowers are a majestic favourite.

The RIR is crafted to balance ecological connectivity and recreational green opportunities against residential and urban connections. Every stretch is a different adventure!

A seamless ride. An uninterrupted 75km of cycling begins at Rower's Bay Park, Seletar and ends at Berlayer Creek, Labrador Park. Since the RIR is so accessible, you can stop at any point along the way if you need to.

Otters! Spot them sleekly scampering along mudflats and mangroves, perhaps with freshly caught fish. They are playful and social animals, plus their chirps are very cute. But do respect their territory.

DID YOU KNOW?

The Singapore Green Plan 2030 is getting the Government, the public and many private companies together to transform Singapore into a greener and more sustainable city. Sustainable Living, Energy Reset, Green Economy, Resilient Future and City in Nature are the Plan's five key pillars.

DID YOU KNOW?

Like all good adventures, the present RIR is only Part 1. When its western half opens in the mid-2030s, the complete RIR will be a continuous 150km park connector. The RIR is key to NParks' overall vision: a 360km island-wide network of recreational routes comprising park connectors and trails. It grows NParks' efforts to develop Singapore into a biodiverse "City in Nature", supporting the Singapore Green Plan 2030.

Solar-powered charging points are available at Changi Bay, Sengkang Riverside Park and Jalan Kayu. Keep connected no matter where you are.

Marine tiles line the RIR. They are more than decorative; their crevices and crannies are ideal microhabitats for sustaining marine life. It helps to think of them as prime waterfront living for crabs, snails and starfish.

Cross these bridges and feel their energy beneath your feet. We have a few including standout ones running through Punggol Waterway Point; Lorong Halus Red Bridge at the Punggol Serangoon Reservoir; the cheerful Sunrise Bridge; and Sengkang Riverside Bridge, Singapore's longest cross-canal bridge.

See white-bellied sea eagles soar overhead. They are Singapore's largest raptor, and have wingspans over 2m. They feed on fish and crabs — their dramatic dives are not to be missed!

TRAVEL TIPS FOR PRO FAMILY HOLIDAYS

After years of finding the grooviest, glam-est and most Instagrammable spots for our readers, we thought it time to put together our list of Top 12 travel tips with the family. Here's how our PAssion team preps for Singapore sightseeing and worldwide wanderers!

GEAR UP!

Never travel without these.

FIRST AID KIT

Bring one. Stock it with standards: paracetamol, flu tablets, plasters, antiseptics.

INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL ADAPTER

When you need to charge your electrical devices for the next day of selfies and on-location video calls to friends or family back home, these compact adaptors work no matter where you are.

APPS FOR THAT

Load up your phone with apps for local services. Get food, transport and maybe even discounts on attractions the way the locals do it!

2 PAIRS OF FOOTWEAR, MAX

Face it, you won't need that many per person. Just make sure they are comfortable.

PAssion Tip

Download MyPAssion app if you haven't! Check out the latest deals from PAssion merchants to prepare for your upcoming trip! We did say there'd be apps for that!

PREP 4

Going out is not just about exploring a new place — it is also about being in the right mental space.

WALKING TOURS!

The best way to understand a city is on foot. Look for a guide and/or a group, and spend an afternoon learning about the history and culture of where you are — and get safely to the spots that only locals know.

LOCAL PHRASES

We always make sure to know some key phrases when travelling. They are little, but take you a LONG way.

VACCINATIONS

Get your jabs, especially during peak periods. Healthy holidays, happy memories.

CHILL

It's OK if (when) things don't go according to the itinerary. This is all about me-time and family time. Don't sweat the small stuff.

SEE SG

Our nation's going forward. Prep gear and see all that is out there!

SUNSCREEN

We are one degree north of the Equator. A day out for fun does mean lots of skin out in the sun. Slip, slop and slide on that sunblock, especially for the little ones, and play all day.

PLACES LESS TRODDEN

Singapore is more than just malls. Walk, cycle or ride in parks and reservoirs, visit our offshore islands or find your nearest farm and get back to nature.

MOSQUITO REPELLENT

There are less (kinda) of them now at year's end, but these sprays remain a definite "BRING!" when going trail walking.

SINGAPORE VISITOR CENTRES (SVCs)

Want to know more about Singapore? Pop into one of the nine SVCs located across Singapore in Orchard Road, Civic District, Kampong Gelam, Chinatown and Katong-Joo Chiat to receive personalised destination information. Go to visitsingapore.com or download the "Visit Singapore" travel guide app available on iOS and Android.

SCHOOL'S OUT, FUN'S IN

Max out your holidays with fun through PA courses and programmes available at PAssion Wave outlets. With six outlets located across the reservoirs and sea fronts, here are some activities you (and your squad) can try at PAssion Wave:

STAND-UP PADDLING (MIN. AGE: 12)

Grip your paddle. Enjoy the breeze in your hair and the gentle sway of water beneath your feet.

It's like a full-body workout on the water. What we have experienced with this Stand-up Paddling Starter Course is a one-of-a-kind way to experience Singapore's coastline: you are standing on a board so you see the horizon ahead and into the (hopefully treasure-laden) depths below.

SPORT CLIMBING (MIN. AGE: 10)

There are many routes to the top when you know where to look — all it takes is a little bit of experience and some strength.

The Sport Climbing Orientation Programme, guided by PAssion Wave's seasoned instructors, will help you with scaling the outdoor wall up to 5 storeys high!

ABSEILING (MIN. AGE: 10)

Experience the thrill of walking off the ledge and down the wall. With guidance from our instructors, face your fears and descend at your leisure.

Abseiling Orientation Programme is good training for exploring exotic caves and water features during future holidays.

DID YOU KNOW?

To sign up for these courses, log on to www.onePA.gov.sg. You can also rent kayaks and other equipment from PAssion Wave!

PAssion Tip

For even more sporty fun with your friends, there's Singapore's first and only Olympic-sized ice-skating rink at The Rink@JCube, 2 Jurong East Central 1. Or if you're game for more thrilling experiences, gather your squad for escape room schemes at Trapped, 2 Handy Road, the former Cathay building or Xcape Singapore, 161 Rochor Road.
