PDT2

The Pengerang Deepwater Terminal 2 (PDT2) is primarily where the operation of PIC begins and ends.

It is the only site where we receive the vital imported crude for the entire PIC operation, where we export most of our refined petroleum and petrochemical products through five petroleum berths and three petrochemical berths.

PDT2 contains a tank farm with a 1.3 million cubic metre storage capacity for petroleum products and a 200,000 cubic metre capacity for petrochemicals.

PDT2 is now ready for start-up.

Quote of the Week

“We have come so far, and I am confident that all of us would be able to complete this last mile with great success. We will achieve a safe and smooth startup as well as a sustainable operations for many years to come.”

What's Good in Pengerang?

Since Chef Ammar Al Ali's video about his lamb shank mandi rice has gone viral on social media, many of us have been secretly wanting to have mandi rice for iftar. In Pengerang, there are two known Arab restaurants and they are located in Bukit Pelali, Restoran Nasi Arab Dir Kabana and Bandar Penawar, Restoran Nasi Arab Buner Kabana.

You are guaranteed to be served with aromatic and freshly smoked mandi rice with succulent and juicy quarter chicken. If you don't feel like having mandi rice for iftar, you can opt for other popular Arab dishes such as shawarma, madghout, kabsah, hummus, kofte and sheesh tawook. An Arab themed iftar with your colleagues, friends and family at these Arab restaurants in Pengerang will definitely be a memorable one.
