

Leaders' Commitment Inspires Confidence

The last few months have been the most anticipated for many of us here in the Pengerang Integrated Complex (PIC). After multiple challenges, we finally started up our complex last mere days after Raya. Throughout the gruelling days approaching start-up, we banded together, kept our heads down, and focused on completing our tasks quickly and safely. But all of this could still be a pipe dream without the clear directions from our management and the strong support from our leaders.

Earlier this year, Datuk Sazali Hamzah took the helm of EVP and CEO of Downstream and at the top of his to-do list was to ensure PIC is on track for its start-up. This was also the same priority for En Adnan Zainal Abidin after being appointed as the PETRONAS Chief Operating Officer. Both leaders saw the importance of having a personal and face-to-face update session with our management and being on the ground with staff where the operation is taking place.

They committed to bi-weekly work meetings with PIC for progress and stabilization updates. This level of commitment to see PIC succeed inspires confidence in all of us that our top leaders are giving their strong support by offering a direct link to them for a faster decision-making process. The start-up will also strengthen PETRONAS' position in capturing opportunities from the current market upside, with the Asian refining margins expected to maintain its resilience in 2022 attributed to global factors.

To top it all off, Datuk Tengku Taufik, the President and CEO of PETRONAS, is also committed to with PRAYER back during Ramadan, and he personally came by during Raya to see our status himself. We are blessed with our leaders from multiple levels showing us that they too, believe in our abilities to achieve a safe and successful start-up and beyond.

PIC ships first LPG post Start-up

After two years, Pengerang Integrated Complex has shipped its first Liquefied Petroleum Gas (LPG) after the Start-up in May this year. This is another milestone achieved as the last LPG shipment out from PIC was in February 2020.

Two shipments lifted around 2500MT of Pressurized LPG Mix each to Philippines and Bangladesh. In future, we can expect to ship to other destinations such as the South East Asia and South Asia markets based on the number of tenders received and won.

Our main Pressurized LPG importers are from Philippines, Vietnam and Bangladesh due to geographical advantage. We may ship to Bangladesh once Philippines and Vietnam are fully covered and the fourth market option could be South China.

Nurturing Trust with DOE

Johor Department of Environment (DOE) Director Dr Mohd Famey Yusoff visited PIC recently and was briefed on the start-up progress who later stated his satisfaction on the progress. By networking and engaging with DOE, we can Nurture the Trust between both parties and ensure good support for current and future activities and milestones in PIC.

Kejayaan itu tak datang tiba-tiba. Ia datang setelah kita berkorban, bersusah payah, banyak menangis, sering gagal dan tak jemu berusaha. "Fa inna ma'al usri yusra, inna ma'al usri yusra" Oleh itu, maka tetapkanlah kepercayaanmu bahawa sesuatu itu dapat dicapai dengan disertai kemudahan, (Sekali lagi ditegaskan): bahawa sesungguhnya tiap-tiap kesukaran disertai kemudahan.

Quote of the Week

"We come close to smooth start up. Im confident we can achieve it. We will never back down and we will breakthrough every obstacle and challenges. Remember this 'Success isn't always about greatness, it's about consistency. Consistent hardwork gains success, Greatness will come afterward'. So lets finish this and we will be a great success for many years."

What's Good in Pengerang?

Tanjung Pengelih Ferry Terminal

One of the best things about living in Pengerang is the distance to Batam Island, Indonesia and Singapore is just a few minutes away. Tanjung Pengelih Ferry Terminal, located just within a walking distance from Gate 3, is now open to the public after two years of closure due to the COVID-19 global lockdown. Now that the global lockdown has now become a distant memory, workers at the PIC can look forward to travel to Singapore and Batam Island via Tanjung Pengelih Ferry Terminal everyday. If your Malaysian passport has expired, there's an immigration office here to deal on matters related to passport renewal and even new passport application.
