Quote of the Week

"The team has gone through ups and downs over the past few years. The magnitude of the project and its integrated nature, is indeed a challenging yet fruitful experience for everybody involved either directly or indirectly. Now with the plant starting up progressively, it is a huge milestone towards stable commercial operations and this is a significant step for PIC to achieve the status of "THE Regional Petrochemical Park". With a combination of world-class facilities and competent workforce, PIC is on the right track to prove itself to be the key player in supporting PETRONAS' Moving Forward Together (MFT) 50.30.0 aspiration."
