Thank you, Teman Malaysia

After over a year of supporting the social enterprise that focuses on providing companion care services, PRPC organized an engagement session with Teman Malaysia, a care service provider, to convey thanks for the facilitation support that was given to organize everyday activities of the elderly or their loved ones through hospital visits, recreational activities, and specialised classes.

Our very own SVP & CEO of PRPC, Tuan Haji Kamal Bahrin Ahmad, conveyed his appreciation for all the support that Teman Malaysia has given through various initiatives, working alongside PRPC. One such initiative is known as "Temanion". Symbolically, Temanion(s) is a portmanteau of the Malay word 'teman' where its English equivalent refers as 'companions'. Hence Temanion entails a set of people appointed to provide quality companionship and assisting to give care services to those in need to complete their daily activities.

Initially, Teman was formed as a start-up yielded from SEEd.Lab (Social Enterprise Education Lab), and subsequently powered by PETRONAS and TATA Consultancy Services. At its core, Teman envisions to be a leader in aged care industry while empowering Malaysian. By 2030, the average aged or elderly community in Malaysia is expected to accumulate to more than 7 million people within the age group of 60 years old and above.

Teman aspires to empower the elderly by providing emotional support and assistance for their daily living, while offering employment opportunities to citizens of Malaysia to join the Teman workforce and offer their services for a noble cause and building a career in the service and hospitality field. In return, Teman Malaysia hopes to reduce the percentage of youth unemployment rate in the country that stood at 9.1% in 2020 by providing job opportunities for them through the flexible work schedule to choose from such as freelancing, or full time.

In addition, some of the other services offered by Teman to PRPC includes that of doing everyday activity such as running errands for the elderly, such as accompanying the elderly to Postaju, banks, government offices and so forth. Also, they accompany clients to do grocery shopping, in addition to providing timely transport services to not only the elderly but also young mothers who need to care for their children and their own personal needs. Plus, crucial assistance in terms of bringing clients for health appointments or children for medical health checks is another important aspect of their service rendered to PRPC.

Quote of the Week

“PRPC UF plays a significant role in supporting PRefChem Start-up. A smooth start-up requires 100% Supply and Services Reliability. I believed there's confusion when we talk about "100% reliability" and "100% availability". Reliability means that the asset performs as intended in a specified operating environment for a stated period of time. Whilst Availability means the time when an asset is capable of performing as intended; able to run. Alhamdulillah, to date, PRPC UF has stepped up and faced all challenges to be a RELIABLE O&M operator. Our commitment and Amanah to our stakeholders and customers in supporting Smooth and Safe Start-Up.”

What's Good in Pengerang?

Pantai Batu Layar

A quieter alternative to the popular Desaru Coast is Pantai Batu Layar, located just about 15km from Bukit Pelali. Pantai Batu Layar is a sloping beach, armoured with pebbles, popular among Johorean families during weekend. The place is not overly crowded and there are many casuarina trees along this clean and relatively rocky 1 kilometre beach which makes the place perfect for picnic, camping, barbecuing or maybe just resting in a hammock during the weekend. There are local homestay and chalets nearby if you plan to stay over the weekend. Entry to the beach is free, unlike the ones in Desaru.
