

PRPC Offers Flood Relief Aid

For a handful of PIC staff and surrounding communities, the flood situation is a very possible reality during this monsoon season. According to the Kota Tinggi District Officer Datin Paduka Hazlina Jalil, 65 hotspots are at risk of being inundated or cut off during floods in this district. This involves 53 villages, ten housing estates, two Felda areas and four main roads.

With the intention to assist the authorities in responding to those in need during floods, PRPC contributed three units of Ford Rangers on loan to Polis Diraja Malaysia (PDRM) and two units of Modenas Pulsar NS200 motorcycles to Jabatan BOMBA dan Penyelamat Malaysia (BOMBA).

During the handing over ceremony on 17th Nov 2022, En Rahmat Siran, Head Security PRPC, handed over the keys to Jimi Osmera Osman Ibu Pejabat Daerah (IPD) Kota Tinggi, during the ceremony held here in PIC. In a later event on 25th Nov 2022, SVP & CEO of PRPC En Kamal Bahrin Ahmad gave the mock key to YAS Dato' Sri Ts. Mohammad Hamdan Wahid, Director General of BOMBA, a symbolic of the change of ownership from PETRONAS to BOMBA.

These contributions came on the heels of of the Johor PETRONAS Disaster Relief Programme conducted at the District Office on 18th Oct 2022. This initiative is a part of PETRONAS' pledge to help affected flood victims, announced last December.

Done your POCs yet? 2022

Designed to help identify gaps in the organisation, the PETRONAS Organisational Culture Survey (POCS) gathers honest feedback from the staff to make PETRONAS a better place to work. Culture determines how things get done, and getting things done is what makes strategy becomes reality.

According to the POCS FAQs, each feedback will enable the organisation to track changes as well as progress in focus areas improvement, thus, drive the organisation's action plans to attain a high-performance culture. The group-wide participation for POCS is important as it provides a total view of PETRONAS' culture progress.

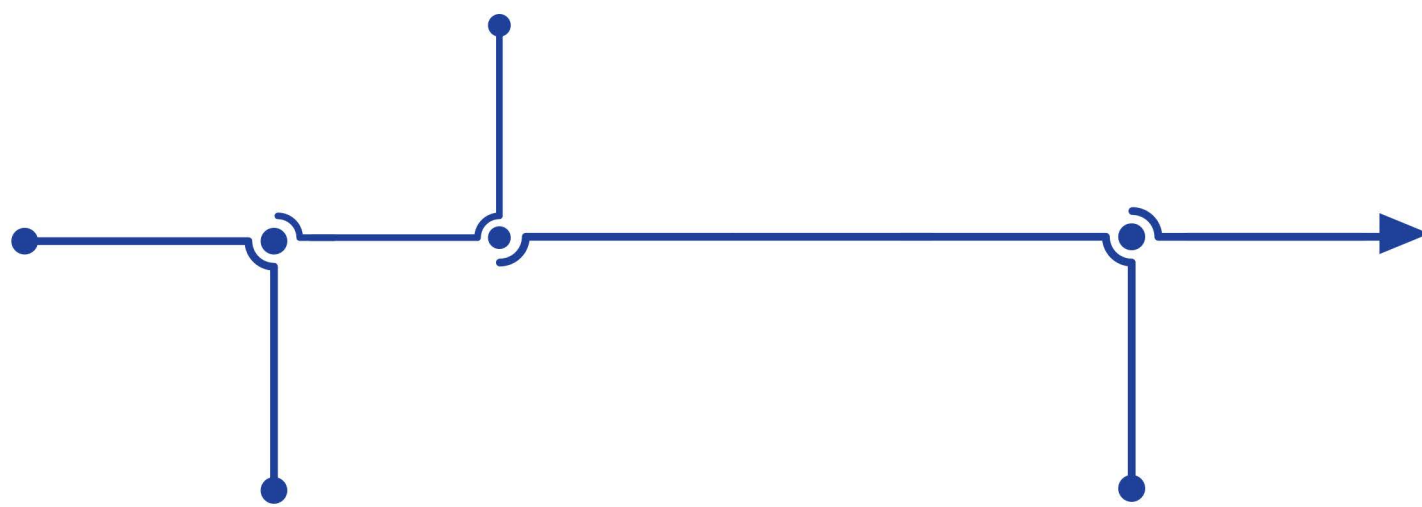

POCS 2022 also aims to improve the overall experience in providing feedback. The number of questions has been reduced from more than 80 questions to 35 questions on a new interface that is fast, easy to navigate, visually appealing, displays relevant information, and easily operable.

Kedai Runcit Yee Foh

Located near the the Gate 3 roundabout, Kedai Runcit Yee Foh has been around for decades, and the grocery shop sells daily essentials to Kampung Pengerang people for generations. Here, you can buy anything that you can think of from a typical shop or supermarket. The shop is old and nostalgic, and you can't miss to locate the shop, which is in a shop row of Kampung Pengerang, a place that used to become a central hub for the locals to meet and gather.
