17. Umbrella license – Amsterdam General Municipal Bye-Law (APV)

1. The Convention Centre is subject to an umbrella license of the Municipality of Amsterdam for the organization of various APV activities, as further described in the Facility Regulations. If the Participant wishes to organize an activity that falls under the scope of the umbrella license, they must request permission from the Convention Centre, which will decide as soon as possible.
2. A Participant is expected to ascertain, prior to registration, whether the activities they intend to organize require the permission of the Convention Centre. If the Participant fails to request permission for the organization of an activity that falls under the scope of the umbrella license, the Convention Centre may immediately cease the activity and, in the worst case, terminate the Participation Agreement.
3. If the Convention Centre grants permission for the organization of an activity, the Participant, or a third party making use of the permission through the Participant, is obliged to strictly comply with the regulations attached to the permission.
4. The Participant, or a third party making use of the permission through the Participant, is at all times required to cooperate with a compliance check of the regulations attached to the permission.
5. If a Participant, or a third party making use of the permission through the Participant, fails to comply with any regulation attached to the permission, the Participant is fully liable for the damage suffered by the Convention Centre as a result. Damage also includes the sanctions imposed on the Convention Centre by or on behalf of the competent authority due to actions contrary to or non-compliance with the granted umbrella license.
6. The Convention Centre and RAI are not liable for any damage suffered by the Participant, or a third party making use of the permission through the Participant, as a result of the Convention Centre's role as a supervisor of compliance with the regulations attached to the permission unless there is intent or deliberate recklessness on the part of the Convention Centre, or as a result of enforcement action by the competent authority.
7. To the extent that this article imposes any obligation on third parties making use of the permission through the Participant, the Participant is obliged to impose these obligations on the third party(ies). The Participant indemnifies the Convention Centre and RAI for all third party claims wishing to make use of the permission, insofar as these claims are related to, among other things, the refusal or granting of permission, the content of the permission, or the measures taken by the Convention Centre or the competent authority in the context of supervision and enforcement of the regulations attached to the permission. This does not affect the liability of the Participant according to the provision in paragraph 5 of this article.
