Before You Travel

Visa

For those who need a visa to travel in China, we recommend using the Chinese Visa Application Service Centre.

The visa application process varies between Chinese embassies/consulates in different countries, and the requirements may also depend on your personal circumstances. Please consult the relevant embassy/consulate before applying for your visa.

Attention*: Passports must be valid for at least six months beyond the intended date of entry into China.

For a visa invitation letter, please contact:

Interclean China

mkt@intercleanchina.com

The free invitation letter is issued in the name of 'RAI China'. As the event organiser, we have the right to issue invitation letters. In rare cases, the free invitation could result in the visa not being processed successfully.

Accommodation

To make your visit to Interclean Shanghai as comfortable as possible, we have carefully selected a range of hotels that meet international standards for quality, comfort and service. All the recommended hotels are located close to the exhibition venue, allowing you to minimise time spent in transit and maximise the time for exploring and networking.

Through our trusted booking partner, we have also secured exclusive, specially negotiated rates, offering you the best value without compromising on comfort. You can book quickly and easily via our dedicated system.

Follow this link to arrange your accommodation via our booking system.

Internet & Communication

Reliable internet access is essential during your stay in China, not only for staying in touch, but also for making mobile payments, navigating your way around and using everyday apps. Make sure your phone has 4G or 5G connectivity.

While you can purchase a local SIM card at Shanghai Airport, please note that this will not give you access to services such as WhatsApp, Google Map or Gmail due to local internet restrictions.

To stay connected without hassle, we recommend purchasing an international eSIM with a China data package from providers such as NOMAD or AIRALO. These services allow you to freely use your preferred apps, including WhatsApp and Google tools. Make sure you install and activate your eSIM before leaving home. It will activate automatically once you arrive in Shanghai.

For a one-week stay, a 10GB data plan should be sufficient for everyday use, allowing you to browse, navigate and message as you please.

Alipay: Your Essential App in China

Alipay is everywhere in China, from paying for a taxi or metro ride to shopping, dining, or even translating menus and signs. It's widely accepted across the country and makes day-to-day life incredibly convenient. For this reason, we highly recommend downloading Alipay before your trip.

How to Set Up Alipay

Follow these steps to create an account and link your card:

1. Open Alipay and click the 'ME' icon at the bottom right.
2. Click 'BANK CARDS'.
3. Tap the '+' icon and enter your bank card number or scan it.
4. Supported cards: Visa, Mastercard, UnionPay and Diners Club.

Verify Your Alipay Account

1. Go to 'Me' > 'Settings' > 'Account and Security'.
2. Select 'Identity Information' and tap 'Verify now'.
3. Select your nationality and scan your passport.
4. Fill in any missing info, such as address and occupation.
5. Complete the face recognition to activate your account.

Once verified, you can fully enjoy all Alipay functions.

Your Visit to the Show

A bit of preparation goes a long way! Before you arrive, visit the Interclean Shanghai website, it's fully mobile-friendly, giving you quick access to the exhibitor list, floor plan, and programme highlights. Perfect for planning your day and making the most of your time at the show.

Don't forget to bring plenty of business cards (They are still widely used in China!), wear comfortable shoes, and carry a power bank as your phone will be your go-to tool for navigation, scanning QR codes and networking.

Tip: In China, it is considered polite to give and receive business cards with two hands.

Do you need help overcoming language barriers?

We offer a professional interpreter service that you can book for 4 or 8 hours, depending on your needs. Interpreters are available in a variety of languages, covering not only English-Chinese but also other major languages. Please note that this is a paid service, and must be reserved before 16 October to guarantee availability of various languages.

Tips & Emergency

- Emergency number in China: 110 (Police), 120 (Ambulance)
- English is not widely spoken, be patient and use translation apps. It is also advisable to carry the address of your hotel or exhibition venue written in Chinese.
- Respect local etiquette by avoiding loud voices and being mindful in queues and on public transport.

We look forward to seeing you in Shanghai!

Safe travels and enjoy your experience at Interclean Shanghai 2026!
