

Patrick Boulier

Chief Executive Officer,
Latin America

Patrick Boulier has been CEO for Latin America since 2022 and a member of the Global Executive Team since 2026.

Since joining Sodexo in 1992, he has held a broad range of leadership positions in the region, developing deep operational and strategic expertise across the Group's diverse services and segments. His professional journey has been consistently connected to Latin America, a region where he has spent most of his career.

In 2019, Patrick was appointed Sodexo Region Chair for Latin America, with responsibility for supporting the region's strategic direction and long-term growth. He has played a key part in strengthening Sodexo's market presence, enhancing operational excellence, and promoting innovation and sustainable development across multiple countries and business environments.

Patrick is recognized for his multicultural leadership style and his ability to build strong, engaged and high-performing teams in complex and fast-changing contexts. His leadership is driven by a growth mindset, shaped both by his international experience and his background in sports.

Based in Santiago, Chile, Patrick is French and speaks English and Spanish.
