

This guidance is being provided to assist STERIS Customers to use the FDA website to identify if STERIS has listed a specific medical device with FDA. Because the FDA website does not provide direct traceability to a Customer name or product codes that have been listed, it is possible that a Customer may need more detail from STERIS after going through the steps below. If you require additional assistance, please email questions to Device\_Registration@STERIS.com.
