

Clinical Practice Improvement Programme (CPIP)

Building Teams with an Improvement Mindset

PROGRAMME DESCRIPTION

The Clinical Practice Improvement Programme (CPIP), launched in 2002, is designed to help develop clinical leadership in the delivery of evidence-based quality care. It provides a platform for multidisciplinary healthcare teams to learn ways to lead improvement where gaps are evident in the delivery of care.

The programme provides scientific training in the following areas: understanding patients' needs and diagnosing practice gaps; measuring and understanding variance in practice and processes; developing interventions using plan-do-study-act (PDSA) cycles; collaborating with multi-disciplinary care providers; and designing strategies to sustain change.

PROGRAMME CONTENT

This programme spans over six months. Participants are required to attend ALL 3 sessions (the main workshop, midpoint and final review) and complete an improvement project.
