

About Home Infusion

UChicago Medicine Home Infusion offers patients the convenience of receiving intravenous (IV) therapy in the comfort and privacy of their own home. Our team of medical professionals, including pharmacists and infusion-trained nurses, will create a personalized medication therapy plan for you, provide education for both patients and caregivers and work closely with your doctor and caregiver to ensure the safe and effective delivery of your infusion therapies.

We accept a variety of insurance plans, including most Medicare, Medicaid, and Commercial insurance plans, to make the process as convenient as possible for you.
