

Talk to your pharmacist. It may save your life.

Illinois law says that your pharmacist must talk to you about any new or changed prescriptions.

Education makes sure that you know about the safe and effective use of your medications. This lowers the chances of any harmful problems.

If you get prescriptions by mail, you can contact the pharmacist at the phone number on your order.

If the pharmacist does not talk with you about any new or changed prescriptions, contact the state regulatory authority.

Department of Financial and Professional Regulation
Division of Professional Regulation Complaint Intake Unit

100 West Randolph Street, Suite 9-300

Chicago, IL 60601

Phone: (312) 814-6910

www.idfpr.com

UChicago Medicine