Financial Policy

- Roswell Surgery Center provides cost estimates and generates bills for the facility charges only. Final patient responsibility will be determined by your insurance company, according to the plan you have selected. We are not responsible for mis-information given to us by insurance carriers.
- Co-insurance and deductible amounts quoted are based on procedure codes given and insurance provided prior to the surgery date. Please understand that these codes may change according to the procedure the surgeon performs and feels most appropriate.
- Multiple Healthcare Providers (surgeons, anesthesiologist, laboratory, pathologist, etc) generate separate bills for the services involved in the patient's procedure. Please contact each provider for your charges and financial obligations.
