

General Insurance Complaints Policy

We are committed to customer service and always seek to put our customers and their needs first – this includes understanding where you are not satisfied with our products or the information, service or a response that we have provided, so we have an opportunity to make things right.

Zurich has internal dispute resolution procedures in place for resolving complaints, which is a free service to you and your representatives. This document aims to assist you in accessing these services should the need arise.

As part of our commitment, we will

- Manage customer complaints fairly, transparently and proactively.
- Engage with our customers or their representatives to understand their complaint, assist them in lodging their complaint and work with them to ensure timely and satisfactory resolution.
- Provide training to staff in the identification and effective management of complaints and disputes. This training will be supported by our internal Complaints Management Policy and procedures.
- Work with third party providers and distribution partners to manage complaints and disputes and provide direction in the management of complaints and disputes, which in a number of cases will involve maintaining oversight of their complaint management frameworks and training programs.

What happens after I raise my complaint?

- We will acknowledge all complaints within 24 hours or as soon as practicable.
- In circumstances where a customer does not require a written response, we will resolve complaints within 5 business days.
- Where we are unable to resolve complaints within this timeframe, we will respond in writing to complaints within 15 business days, if we have all the information required.
- If additional information or investigation is required and we are unable to meet this 15-business day timeframe, we will notify our customer within those 15 business days and seek to agree an alternative timeframe.
- Where a customer is not satisfied with our response or we cannot agree an alternative timeframe, the matter may be reviewed through our internal complaint review process, which is free of charge. Where we have all information required, we will respond in writing within 15 business days.
- If we cannot meet this timeframe because additional information or investigation is required, we will notify our customer within those 15 business days and seek to agree an alternative timeframe.
- We will keep our customers informed of the progress their complaint at least every 10 business days unless otherwise agreed.
- We will provide our final response no later than 30 calendar days after receiving a complaint.

We subscribe to the independent external dispute resolution scheme administered by the Australian Financial Complaints Authority (AFCA), which is available to customers and third parties who fall within the AFCA Complaint Resolution Scheme Rules. If our decision does not resolve the complaint to our customer's satisfaction, or if we do not resolve the complaint within 30 calendar days of the date first received, customers may refer their complaint to AFCA.

What if I'm not satisfied with your proposed decision or resolution to my complaint?

As we are a member of an external dispute resolution scheme, if you are still not satisfied with our decision or if your complaint is not resolved within 30 calendar days of you making the complaint, you may refer your complaint to the Australian Financial Complaints Authority (AFCA) on 1800 931 678. If you wish to do so, you should refer your matter to AFCA as early as possible, as time limits can apply. While AFCA sets these time limits, in general you have within two years of the date of this letter and 6 years from the date when you should reasonably have become aware you suffered a loss.
