

Strategise,
secure,
succeed

Defend your company and beat the competition

In the 'Cyber Game of Life' board game you will be put in the position of a new security team for a business. During the game you must protect the organisation by choosing the right controls and making the right response decisions whilst under pressure! The team that wins is the team with the fewest losses. Don't lose too much money or you will go bust and lose the game!

Cyber Risk Awareness and Training

Learn more about cyber threats, controls and risk in an entertaining and engaging manner. Encourage team building and knowledge sharing by adding a social aspect to your cyber awareness activities.

Make the Choice, Feel the Consequence

Experience the business decisions of a cyber security team. Understand how investing or not investing in certain security controls translate into business losses.

Benefits of Learning Offline

Data shows that offline learning increases the chances of absorbing knowledge. Discussing, physically holding and playing security controls improves memory and retention.

Delivery

The 'Cyber Game of Life' can be delivered by ZRS Cyber Consultants to groups of 6 - 100 people.

Consultants will attend on site and bring all required resources, including game flow and attack deck, physical board game, cards, dice and game money.

The game can be a standalone activity or part of a wider cyber awareness and training day planned and delivered for your organisation. It is designed for those with minimal knowledge of Cyber but is also enjoyable for technical teams to test and share their knowledge. The 'Cyber Game of Life' can be utilised as a fantastic social and networking event with built in breaks for food and drinks.
