Who we are

For nearly two decades, SpearTip has continually aimed to protect businesses as they fulfill their own missions. Our services can help organizations avoid large financial and data losses while building lasting cyber resilience.

Cybersecurity is a top concern for senior management and boards, as companies are exposed to a wide variety of vulnerabilities that pose existential threats. Prioritizing investing in cybersecurity can be daunting, with risks evolving daily. The hardest part can be knowing where to start.

SpearTip has been providing cybersecurity services since

2005

Benefits you can expect

Our team can provide a holistic view of your organization's controls and their adequacy concerning your exposure. Risk quantification can help increase cyber insurability while limiting the presence and severity of vulnerabilities.

Your organization can benefit from our team's extensive experience and pragmatic approach.

- Advance your cybersecurity maturity and mitigate risks that were previously undiscovered
- Educate and train your team to identify and avoid phishing and social engineering schemes.
- Prepare for emerging cyber risks through forward-looking insights
- Achieve stronger collaboration between Risk Management and Information Security / IT teams
